Using Data in Schools to Inform Leadership and Decision Making Alex J. Bowers, Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, 2014-11-01 Our fifth book in the International Research on School Leadership series focuses on the use of data in schools and districts as useful information for leadership and decision making Schools are awash in data and information from test scores to grades to discipline reports and attendance as just a short list of student information sources while additional streams of data feed into schools and districts from teachers and parents as well as local regional and national policy levels To deal with the data schools have implemented a variety of data practices from data rooms to data days data walks and data protocols However despite the flood of data successful school leaders are leveraging an analysis of their school's data as a means to bring about continuous improvement in an effort to improve instruction for all students Nevertheless some drown some swim while others find success Our goal in this book volume is to bring together a set of chapters by authors who examine successful data use as it relates to leadership and school improvement In particular the chapters in this volume consider important issues in this domain including How educational leaders use data to inform their practice What types of data and data analysis are most useful to successful school leaders To what extent are data driven and data informed practices helping school leaders positively change instructional practice In what ways does good data collection and analysis feed into successful continuous improvement and holistic systems thinking How have school leadership practices changed as more data and data analysis techniques have become available What are the major obstacles facing school leaders when using data for decision making and how do they overcome them

Data-driven Decisions and School Leadership Theodore J. Kowalski, Thomas J. Lasley, James W. Mahoney, 2008 This book integrates theory and practice in decision making with a specific focus on data driven decision making Applications are demonstrated in the contexts of administration supervision and teaching The book provides a unique contribution to the literature in this field in that the studies of decision theory and data based decision making are integrated Focusing on educators assuming leadership roles in school improvement the book's content is equally relevant for administrators supervisors and teachers The book however is centered on data driven decision making both as a requirement of the No Child Left Behind Act and as a normative professional standard Issues related to accumulating storing and protecting data in districts and schools also are covered Applications in administration supervision and teaching are demonstrated
