Database Lab Manual Polytechnic:

Developing research skills : a laboratory manual Helen J. Crawford, Larry B. Christensen, 1990-12 Formal Methods in Databases and Software Engineering V.S. Alagar, Laks V.S. Lakshmanan, F. Sadri, 2012-12-06 Logic and object orientation have come to be recognized as being among the most powerful paradigms for modeling information systems. The term information systems is used here in a very general context to denote database systems, software development systems, knowledge base systems, proof support systems, distributed systems, and reactive systems. One of the most vigorously researched topics common to all information systems is formal modeling. An elegant high level abstraction applicable to both application domain and system domain concepts will always lead to a system design from outside in that is the aggregation of ideas is around real life objects about which the system is to be designed. Formal methods when applied with this view in mind especially during early stages of system development can lead to a formal reasoning on the intended properties thus revealing system flaws that might otherwise be discovered much later. Logic in different styles and semantics is being used to model databases and their transactions; it is also used to specify concurrent distributed real time and reactive systems. The notion of object is central to the modeling of object oriented databases as well as object oriented design and programs in software engineering. Both database and software engineering communities have undoubtedly made important contributions to formalisms based on logic and objects. It is worthwhile bringing together the ideas developed by the two communities in isolation and focusing on integrating their common strengths.

CAAD futures 1997 Richard Junge, 2012-12-06 Since the establishment of the CAAD futures Foundation in 1985, CAAD experts from all over the world meet every two years to present and at the same time document the state of art of research in Computer Aided Architectural Design. The history of CAAD futures started in the Netherlands at the Technical Universities of Eindhoven and Delft where the CAAD futures Foundation came into being. Then CAAD futures crossed the oceans for the first time; the third CAAD futures in 1989 was held at Harvard University. Next stations in the evolution were in 1991 Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, the ETC Zurich. In 1993 the conference was organized by Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, and in 1995 by National University, Singapore. CAAD futures 1995 marked the world wide nature by organizing it for the first time in Asia. Proceedings of CAAD futures held biannually provide a complete review of the state of research in
