Christianizing Egypt David Frankfurter,2024-11-01 How does a culture become Christian especially one that is heir to such ancient traditions and spectacular monuments as Egypt This book offers a new model for envisioning the process of Christianization by looking at the construction of Christianity in the various social and creative worlds active in Egyptian culture during late antiquity As David Frankfurter shows members of these different social and creative worlds came to create different forms of Christianity according to their specific interests their traditional idioms and their sense of what the religion could offer Reintroducing the term syncretism for the inevitable and continuous process by which a religion is acculturated the book addresses the various formations of Egyptian Christianity that developed in the domestic sphere the worlds of holy men and saints shrines the work of craftsmen and artisans the culture of monastic scribes and the reimagination of the landscape itself through processions architecture and the potent remains of the past Drawing on sermons and magical texts saints lives and figurines letters and amulets and comparisons with Christianization elsewhere in the Roman empire and beyond Christianizing Egypt reconceives religious change from the conversion of hearts and minds to the selective incorporation and application of strategies for protection authority and efficacy and for imagining the environment

Emma's War Deborah Scroggins, 2011-11-23 Emma McCune's passion for Africa her unstinting commitment to the children of Sudan and her youthful beauty and glamour set her apart from other relief workers from the moment she arrived in southern Sudan But no one was prepared for her decision to marry a local warlord a man who seemed to embody everything she was working against and to throw herself into his violent quest to take over southern Sudan's rebel movement With precision and insight Deborah Scroggins who met McCune in Sudan charts the process by which McCune's romantic delusions led to her descent into the hell of Africa's longest running civil war Emma's War is at once a disturbing love story and an up close look at Sudan a world where international aid fuels armies as well as the starving population and where the northern based Islamic government backed by Osama bin Laden is locked in a war with the Christian and pagan south over religion oil and slaves A timely revelatory account of the nature of relief work of the men and women who choose to carry it out and of one woman's sacrifice to its ideals

Not Just Child's Play Felicia R. McMahon, 2009-10-20 Winner of the 2008 Chicago Folklore Prize Felicia R McMahon breaks new ground in the presentation and analysis of emerging traditions of the Lost Boys a group of parentless youths who fled Sudan under tragic circumstances in the 1990s With compelling insight McMahon analyzes the oral traditions of the DiDinga Lost Boys about whom very little is known Her vibrant ethnography provides intriguing details about the performances and conversations of the young DiDinga in Syracuse New York It also offers important insights to scholars and others who work with refugee groups The author argues that the playful traditions she describes constitute a strategy by which these young men proudly position themselves as preservers of DiDinga culture and as harbingers of social change rather than as victims of war Drawing ideas from folklore linguistics drama and play theory the author documents the danced songs of this unique group Her inclusion of original song lyrics translated by the singers and descriptions of conversations convey the voices of the young men Well researched and carefully developed this book makes an original contribution to our understanding of refugee populations and tells a compelling story at the same time
