De Sociaaleconomische Raad En De Ministeriele Verantwoordelijkheid:

The Development of the Dutch Welfare State Robert Cox, 1993-10-15 The development of the Dutch welfare state in the Netherlands started later than in other Western European countries but once it started it grew at a spectacular rate The development was so rapid that it catapulted the Dutch from being welfare laggards to being welfare leaders Cox charts the course of this growth from the nineteenth century to the present placing the Dutch case within the larger theoretical discussion of welfare states In so doing Cox challenges the widely held assumption that welfare programs always represent the policies of the social democratic left He demonstrates that it was not the left but the more centrist religious parties that built the Dutch welfare state in the 1960s Even more curious is the fact that these same political forces had resisted the expansion of welfare programs throughout the first half of the twentieth century In many ways the Netherlands is a crucial test case for assumptions about the welfare state Its system is one of the largest in the world rivaling Sweden's as one that devotes the greatest share of public spending to social welfare How does it compare to other countries Do present theories of welfare state development fit the Dutch case What can we learn from the experience of a small state Cox makes a signal contribution in clarifying the historical record concerning a little studied country and in advancing theoretical debate De Sociaal-Economische Raad en de ministeriële verantwoordelijkheid Gerard Herman Scholten, 1969 The Transformation of Labour Law in Europe Bob Hepple, Bruno Veneziani, 2009-09-02 The labour laws of European democracies all underwent major transformations in the seven decades after the Second World War Following reconstruction these laws became an essential element in the building of welfare states in the 1980s and 1990s they were the target of neo liberal deregulation and at the beginning of the 21st century new flexible labour laws have attempted to integrate economic and social policy This book a sequel to The Making of Labour Law in Europe A Comparative Study of Nine Countries up to 1945 ed B Hepple compares the similarities and differences in the ways in which EU Member States reflected and shaped these general developments in the context of economic social and political changes over the period 1945-2004 Note the Publishers are issuing a reprint of the first volume The Making of Labour Law in Europe A Comparative Study of Nine Countries up to 1945 to coincide with publication of the sequel The great strength of the collection is on the focus on context with chapters looking at developments in labour market trends and structures of worker representation Directory of European political scientists European Consortium for Political Research, University of Essex. Compiled and ed. by the Central Services of the ECPR, 2016-11-07 No detailed description available for Directory of European political scientists Polder Politics F. Hendriks, 2017-10-05 This title was first published in 2001 Under the name of the polder model the Dutch model of democracy has received favourable attention from journalists administrators and political leaders This book presents a thorough analysis of Dutch democracy as a specimen of consensus democracy The Dutch administrative tradition of consensus consultation and compromise is reflected in current trends towards networks and new interactive technologies
