Urban Modernities in Colonial Korea and Taiwan Jina E. Kim, 2019-05-15 Urban Modernities reconsiders Japanese colonialism in Korea and Taiwan through a relational study of modernist literature and urban aesthetics from the late colonial period By charting intra Asian and transregional circulations of writers ideas and texts it reevaluates the dominant narrative in current scholarship that presents Korea and Taiwan as having vastly different responses to and experiences of Japanese colonialism By comparing representations of various colonial spaces ranging from the nation the streets department stores and print spaces to underscore the shared experiences of the quotidian and the poetic Jina E Kim shows how the culture of urban modernity enlivened networks of connections between the colonies and destabilized the metropole colony relationship thus also contributing to the broader formation of global modernism

New Women in Colonial Korea, 2012 This book provides the first English translation of some of the central archival material concerning the development of New Woman sin yŏng in Korea during the late nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century It includes selected writings of both women and men who put forward their views on some of the key issues of new womanhood including gender equality chastity divorce education fashion hygiene birth control and the women's movement The authors whose essays are included express a range of attitudes about the new gender ethics and practices that were deeply influenced by the incessant flow of new and modern knowledge habits and consumer products from metropolitan Japan and the West Emphasizing the global nature of the phenomenon of the New Woman and Modern Girl this sourcebook provides key references to a dynamic and multifarious history of modern Korean women whose ideals and life experiences were formed at the intersection of Western modernity Korean nationalism Japanese colonialism and resilient patriarchy

Rules of the House Sungyun Lim, 2018-12-18 At publication date a free ebook version of this title will be available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Rules of the House offers a dynamic revisionist account of the Japanese colonial rule of Korea 1910 1945 by examining the roles of women in the civil courts Challenging the dominant view that women were victimized by the Japanese family laws and its patriarchal biases Sungyun Lim argues that Korean women had to struggle equally against Korean patriarchal interests Moreover women were not passive victims instead they proactively struggled to expand their rights by participating in the Japanese colonial legal system In turn the Japanese doctrine of promoting progressive legal rights would prove advantageous to them Following female plaintiffs and their civil disputes from the precolonial Choson dynasty through colonial times and into postcolonial reforms this book presents a new and groundbreaking story about Korean women's legal struggles revealing their surprising collaborative relationship with the colonial state Intimate Empire Nayoung Aimee Kwon, 2015 Nayoung Aimee Kwon examines the Japanese language literature written by Koreans during late Japanese colonialism She demonstrates that simply characterizing that literature as collaborationist obscures the complicated relationship these authors had with colonialism modernity and identity as well as the relationship between colonizers and the colonized The Politics of Gender in Colonial Korea Theodore Jun Yoo, 2014-05-29 This study examines how the concept of Korean woman underwent a radical transformation in Korea's public discourse during the years of Japanese colonialism Theodore Jun Yoo shows that as women moved out of traditional spheres to occupy new positions outside the home they encountered the pervasive control of the colonial state which sought to impose modernity on them While some Korean women conformed to the dictates of colonial hegemony others took deliberate pains to distinguish between what was modern e.g Western outfits and thus legitimate and what was Japanese and thus illegitimate Yoo argues that what made the experience of these women unique was the dual confrontation with modernity itself and with Japan as a colonial power

Gender Politics at Home and Abroad Hyaeweol Choi, 2020-07-30 Hyaeweol Choi examines the formation of modern gender relations in Korea from a transnational perspective Diverging from a conventional understanding of secularization as a defining feature of modernity Choi argues that Protestant Christianity introduced to Korea in the late nineteenth century was crucial in shaping modern gender ideology reforming domestic practices and claiming new space for women in the public sphere In Korea Japanese colonial power and with it Japanese representations of modernity was confronted with the dominant cultural and material power of Europe and the US which was reflected in Korean attitudes One of the key agents in conveying ideas of Western modernity in Korea was globally connected Christianity especially US led Protestant missionary organizations By placing gender and religion at the center of the analysis Choi shows that the development of modern gender relations was rooted in the transnational experience of Koreans and not in a simple nexus of the colonizer and the colonized
