Capital Humano como Fuente de Ventajas Competitivas, Antonio Grandío Dopico, 2006. La gestión de las personas preocupa cada vez más a quienes dirigen todo tipo de organizaciones lo que provoca que la demanda de ideas, estrategias e instrumentos que permitan lograr avances en este campo haya crecido en los últimos tiempos de modo significativo. Resulta claro que los cambios legales, la modernización tecnológica o las impresionantes reestructuraciones organizativas aún siendo importantes no son suficientes para producir los cambios que demanda el entorno actual. La clave del éxito consiste en penetrar en las mentes de las personas para conocer cómo son, qué quieren y por qué actúan de una u otra forma consiguiendo extraer de ellas lo mejor y más positivo para lograr su crecimiento profesional y personal y por ende el de toda la organización.

A través de la revisión empírica de las condiciones actuales de la educación superior en México la política de ciencia y tecnología así como del desempeño productivo de las empresas se identifican los alcances y límites que tiene la educación para el bienestar de los individuos y el crecimiento económico en particular en el actual contexto de una sociedad del conocimiento.

ECONOMÍA CIRCULAR, ECO-INNOVACIÓN Y CAPITAL HUMANO EN EL SECTOR HOTELERO DE LA

FRONTERA NORTE DE MÉXICO Elena Aguilar Esparza, Isaac Leobardo Sánchez Juárez, Rosa María García Almada, 2023-11-08 La economía circular es una alternativa para atenuar el impacto ambiental negativo de la actividad humana sin afectar la conquista de la prosperidad económica social. El reto para las empresas consiste en implementar estrategias para su transformación en organizaciones sostenibles. En este tenor resulta indispensable la participación del capital humano de gerentes y empleados para impulsarlas mediante acciones eco innovadoras. En este libro los autores se enfocan en el sector hotelero de dos importantes ciudades de la frontera norte de México Tijuana y Juárez. El problema que identifican es el bajo nivel de eco innovación en las empresas medianas para la adopción de estrategias que se alinean con la economía circular. La investigación que se reporta se centra en la percepción de los gerentes para explicar el efecto del capital humano gerentes y empleados sobre la eco innovación y la economía circular. A través de un enfoque mixto económico e interpretativo fenomenológico se encontró que la formación académica, experiencia, antigüedad y actitudes ambientales de los gerentes favorecen la gestión de la eco innovación y son fortalezas para adquirir nuevos conocimientos que impulsen estrategias circulares en las empresas. Respecto al capital humano de los empleados se reconocen sus capacidades creativas y potencial para alinearse al modelo circular y junto con su experiencia en el giro hotelero, antigüedad, capacitación y comprensión de las políticas ambientales impactan positivamente sobre la eco innovación en procesos en los cuales se cuidan los recursos a la vez que se aportan beneficios para las empresas y el ambiente. Esta obra aporta nuevos conocimientos sobre la economía circular en el sector hotelero de la frontera norte de México, propone integrar en las empresas un capital humano sostenible especializado en eco innovaciones y economía circular a través de la educación formal e informal, lo que redundará en beneficios económicos, sociales y ambientales. Como es natural también destaca la importante participación del gobierno para impulsar, difundir y formular los lineamientos sobre la economía circular en dicho sector.
