emotionally anchoring for the reader and the couple. Also unlike many other romance flicks, this book attempts to bring in and deal with some weightier real-life issues. The narrative in this book is female-focused as every attention is given to what we know about female readership preferences. Our male hero Gideon is attentive, rich, good-looking, and bonus cherry on top: yes, ladies, he cooks in the kitchen, not just in bed. Eva, and most female readership will resonate with his continual doting. Gideon is very needy on the love he both gives to and gets from Eva. This is so much so that the book's title Captivated By You is understated and might be better renamed Can't Live an Hour Without You. Yes, it's a tongue-in-cheek title, or at least his tongue-in-her-cheek title. The two main characters are Gideon, the book's central character, and Eva, the protagonist. Gideon and Eva are two professional 20-somethings and painfully needy. Largely, their neediness stems from their abusive sexual pasts. While both characters come from prior dysfunction, they meet their codependent states mostly with boxers down and skirts up. In this novel, sex is the glue that holds all chapters together. There is Monday night sex, early morning sex, wet shower sex, dry sex, make-up sex, midday sex, weekend sex, after-work sex, and sex after sex. And yes, this sex starts to wear thin as likely so do the sheets about chapter 10 or 11. However, somewhere between psychosis and gratification, the two seem to truly love one another, as even the primal nature of the page garners Gideon's Angelina and reflective poetry. The softness of Gideon's poetic times provide balance for the violent foreshadowing which may be occurring in Day's narrative. Download your copy today for a limited-time discount of only 2.99. A hero does not live a life of ease and joy because life always brings challenges and difficulties, and try as we might, we can never fully control it. Yet even the sailor that fails to control winds can still harness them. In Hero on a Mission, 2022, Donald Miller helps readers pull themselves out of the void, experience a profound sense of meaning, and be the heroes of the lives they wish to live. He reflects on his own journey to find meaning and highlights that living a good life is very much like writing a good story. With determination, discipline, and a positive attitude, we can take control of our own stories without trusting fate to do the work for us because fate is a horrible writer.
