Caribbean Journeys An Ethnography Of Migration And Home In Three Family Networks:

Caribbean Journeys Karen Fog Olwig, 2007-06-12 An ethnographic study of migration based on the experiences of three dispersed Caribbean families as they maintain networks across their diverse locations Transnational Migration and Home in Older Age Katie Walsh, Lena Näre, 2016-03-10 This book examines the transformations in home lives arising in later life and resulting from global migrations It provides insight into the ways in which contemporary demographic processes of aging and migration shape the meaning experience and making of home for those in older age Chapters explore how home is negotiated in relation to possibilities for return to the homeland family networks aging and health care cultures and belonging The book deliberately crosses emerging sub fields in transnationalism studies by offering case studies on aging labour migrants retirement migrants and return migrants as well as older people affected by the movement of others including family members and migrant care workers The diversity of people s experiences of home in later life is fully explored and the impact of social class gender and nationality as well as the corporeal dimensions of older age are all in evidence

Families, Intimacy and Globalization Raelene Wilding, 2018-03-13 Growing numbers of partners parents children grandchildren and siblings are living far away from each other yet their opportunities to stay in touch have never been greater Smartphones tablets and personal computers are used by parents in London to care for their children in the Philippines Refugees use phones and international transfers to send money and support to parents overseas Funerals weddings and anniversaries prompt return visits by plane and are streamed online to kin around the world The mechanisms and processes of globalization are transforming the ways in which people do and think about their families Families Intimacy and Globalization examines their experiences charting the tensions between the freedoms and choices of late modern individuals on the one hand and the constraints of relational ties of love and obligation on the other which produce the floating ties of global families and intimate relationships Using detailed examples from all corners of the globe and across the life course from internet dating to parenting to aged care this thought provoking book examines the transformation of relationships by the processes of migration and the cultural and economic flows that are central to globalization

Transnational Families, Migration and the Circulation of Care Loretta Baldassar, Laura Merla, 2013-09-11 Without denying the difficulties that confront migrants and their distant kin this volume highlights the agency of family members in transnational processes of care in an effort to acknowledge the transnational family as an increasingly common family form and to question the predominantly negative conceptualisations of this type of family It re conceptualises transnational care as a set of activities that circulates between home and host countries across generations and fluctuates over the life course going beyond a focus on mother child relationships to include multidirectional exchanges across generations and between genders It highlights in particular how the sense of belonging in transnational families is sustained by the reciprocal though uneven exchange of caregiving which binds members together in intergenerational networks of reciprocity and obligation love and trust that are simultaneously fraught with tension contest and relations of unequal power The chapters that make up this volume cover a rich array of ethnographic case studies including analyses of transnational families who circulate care between developing nations in Africa Latin America and Asia to wealthier nations in North America Europe and Australia There are also examples of intra and extra European Australian and North American migration which involve the mobility of both the unskilled and working class as well as the skilled middle and aspirational classes The Anthropology of Sibling

Relations E. Alber,C. Coe,T. Thelen,2013-07-17 Drawing on international case studies the contributors extrapolate a systematization of the ways in which siblingship is conceived on the basis of shared parentage shared childhoods and reciprocal care They explore what makes these relations worth maintaining and how they contribute to community processes and to material and emotional survival Transregional and Transnational Families in Europe and Beyond
