Capacity Development In Practice:

Capacity Development in Practice Jan Ubels, Naa-Aku Acquaye-Baddoo, Alan Fowler, 2010 First Published in 2010 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Creative Capacity Development Jenny Pearson, 2011 The development community seems constantly and restlessly in search of a singular approach that will solve poverty unveiling new buzzwords every few years only to toss them aside Author Jenny Pearson argues that the fundamental flaw with this system is that each new approach fails to break out of the underlying technocratic and specialized paradigm in development work As Director of Cambodia's leading capacity building NGO VBNK Pearson explains how creative risks and an innovative spirit can revive development work especially in post conflict settings Creative Capacity Development provides an unflinching appraisal of the author's own assumptions and setbacks as she established VBNK and explains how a dynamic and open learning process allowed the organization to move beyond them Pearson's account drawn with insights from cultural studies mental health practice and the arts will guide other practitioners in broadening their own understanding of capacity building The book reveals that development work far from requiring a singular solution is and should be a never ending process

Strategic Environmental Assessment in Development Practice A Review of Recent Experience OECD, 2012-02-14 This publication presents the nine most interesting case studies of Strategic Environmental Assessment in progress

Rethinking Gender in Development Practice Emily Finlay, Patrick Kilby, Rochelle Spencer, Joyce Wu, 2024-07-12 Rethinking Gender in Development Practice is about the ways in which issues of gender including violence against women and girls entrenched gender roles and expectations the exclusion of non binary genders and the participation of disempowered genders affect and are affected by development practice This volume which pulls together papers from Development in Practice provides accounts from researchers and practitioners working with women in countries from Africa to the Pacific The book offers a global perspective but with the inclusion of local voices on the way gender can impact daily living in the Global South This book includes groundbreaking articles by some of development studies most well known scholars which are interspersed with more recent publications that address urgent issues of gender in development practice Targeted at development practitioners and academics from across the world this book reveals the plight of those from the Global South who do not identify as men and offers examples of how NGOs targeted programs enhanced participation in decision making processes and the interrogation of established discourse on gender can assist in transforming lives

Development Management Justice Nyigmah Bawole, Farhad Hossain, Asad K. Ghalib, Christopher J. Rees, Aminu Mamman, 2016-10-04 Despite significant financial investments the rate of development and pace of poverty reduction in developing and transitional countries has not always matched expectations Development management typically involves complex interactions between governmental and non governmental organisations donors and members of the public and can be difficult to navigate This volume brings together a group of international contributors to explore the theoretical and empirical underpinnings of development management and to consider the prospects and challenges associated with it in the context of both developing and transitional countries Referring to dominant norms and values in public and developmental organisations development management is tied up with the attitudes and perceptions of various stakeholders including government officials public sector managers aid workers donors and members of the public Attempting to make sense of complex interactions between these actors is highly problematic and calls for new approaches models and insights Based on cutting edge research the chapters challenge much of the previous discourse on the subject and evaluate the challenges and opportunities that it presents Development Management offers academics researchers and practitioners of public administration business and management international development and political science a comprehensive and state of the art review of current research on development management in the context of developing and transitional countries

Development Mark Brennan, Jeffrey Birdger, Theodore Alter, 2013-06-19 For many scholars the study of community and community development is at a crossroads Previously dynamic theories appear not to have kept pace with the major social changes of our day Given our constantly shifting social reality we need new ideas and research that pushes the boundaries of our extant community theories Theory Practice and Community Development stretches the traditional boundaries and applications of well established community development theory and establishes new theoretical approaches rooted in new disciplines and new perspectives on community development Expanded from a special issue of the journal Community Development Theory Practice and Community Development collects previously published and widely cited essays as well as new theoretical and empirical research in community development Compiled by the editors of Community Development the essays feature topics as varied as placemaking democratic theory and rural organizing Theory Practice and Community

Development is vital for scholars and practitioners coming to grips with the rapidly changing definition of community

International Community Development Practice Charlie McConnell, Daniel Muia, Anna Clarke, 2021-11-25 International Community Development Practice provides readers with practice based examples of good community development demonstrating its value for strengthening people power and improving the effectiveness of development agencies whether these be governmental non governmental or private sector The chapters focus upon the making of the community development profession and the eight core competences required of the professional practitioner as outlined by the International Association for Community Development IACD whatever their job title or host agency in order to be able to undertake community development These are concerned with the ability of the practitioner to Put ethics and values into practice Engage with communities Ensure participatory planning Organize for change Support learning for change Promote diversity and inclusion Build leadership and infrastructure Develop and improve policy and practice From a policy perspective the book will reassert the role of community development approaches as related to a wide variety of global challenges including poverty amelioration climate change human rights peace building and social environmental political and economic development From a practice perspective the book will reassert the importance of high levels of professional competence building upon decades of experience in the field around the world by development practitioners working in community work social work health adult education environmental protection local economic development urban design cultural work and other disciplines concerned to support effective community development

Communication in International Development Florencia Enghel, Jessica Noske-Turner, 2018-05-23 International development stakeholders harness communication with two broad purposes to do good via communication for development and media assistance and to communicate do gooding via public relations and information This book unpacks various ways in which different efforts to do good are combined with attempts to look good be it in the eyes of donor constituencies at large or among more specific audiences such as journalists or intra agency decision makers Development communication studies have tended to focus primarily on interventions aimed at doing good among recipients at the expense of examining the extent to which promotion and reputation management are elements of those practices This book establishes the importance of interrogating the tensions generated by overlapping uses of communication to do good and to look good within international development cooperation The book is a critical text for students and scholars in the areas of development communication and international development and will also appeal to practitioners working in international aid who are directly affected by the challenges of communicating for and about development

Community Development Practice in Africa Charles Gyan, Linda Kreitzer, Somnoma Valerie Ouedraogo, 2024-08-01 This project seeks to enhance both the theoretical and practical understanding of community development by adopting an African perspective Recognizing that the majority of community development literature utilized in African academic settings predominantly focuses on practices from the Global North this edited volume addresses a critical gap It develops compiles and promotes scholarship that is transnational yet reflective of the unique realities present within the African context This edited volume expands the global discourse on community development by delving into the particular forms it takes within African settings It will explore how local practices influence existing theories and models of community development and examine the integration of these theories into practical applications within African communities The motivating goal of this edited book is to provide a space to examine the specific contextual factors that impact the history theory and practice of community development in Africa Community development should reflect the local context in which it is practiced The contributions included in this edited book will provide a valuable resource for professors researchers and practitioners presenting a range of historically culturally and socially situated critical perspectives In summary this collection seeks to highlight African context specific literature in the field of community development
