Catalogue of Tibetan mandalas and other images Anne Burchardi, 2016 Art of Tibet Los Angeles County Museum of Art, Pratapaditya Pal, 1983-01-01 Spells, Images, and Mandalas Koichi Shinohara, 2014-08-05 Koichi Shinohara traces the evolution of Esoteric Buddhist rituals from the simple recitation of spells in the fifth century to complex systems involving image worship mandala initiation and visualization practices in the ninth century He presents an important new reading of a seventh century Chinese text called the Collected Dharani Sutras which shows how earlier rituals for specific deities were synthesized into a general Esoteric initiation ceremony and how for the first time the notion of an Esoteric Buddhist pantheon emerged In the Collected Dharani Sutras rituals for specific deities were typically performed around images of the deities yet Esoteric Buddhist rituals in earlier sources involved the recitation of spells rather than the use of images The first part of this study explores how such simpler rituals came to be associated with the images of specific deities and ultimately gave rise to the general Esoteric initiation ceremony described in the crucial example of the All Gathering mandala ritual in the Collected Dharani Sutras The visualization practices so important to later Esoteric Buddhist rituals were absent from this ceremony and their introduction would fundamentally change Esoteric Buddhist practice This study examines the translations of dharani sutras made by Bodhiruci in the early eighth century and later Esoteric texts such as Yixing's commentary on the Mahavairocana sutra and Amoghavajra's ritual manuals to show how incorporation of visualization greatly enriched Esoteric rituals and helped develop elaborate iconographies for the deities Over time the ritual function of images became less certain and the emphasis shifted toward visualization This study clarifies the complex relationship between images and ritual changing how we perceive Esoteric Buddhist art as well as ritual

Among Herders of Inner Mongolia Christel Braae, 2017-10-20 This is a study of a unique collection of Inner Mongolian artifacts at the National Museum of Denmark They are described analyzed and presented in a catalogue of more than 800 items documenting the daily life of pastoral society in and around the tent in the herding of the animals in caravan trade and in hunting crafts sports and games and in ritual life Information about the objects was obtained during two expeditions to Inner Mongolia in the 1930s led by the Danish author Henning Haslund Christensen who had many years experience of travel and expedition life in Mongolia This is also a detailed account of the expeditions of the routes means and measures as well as the worries and hopes of the participants of their struggles with scientific aspirations and of the conditions for collecting against the backdrop of the Chinese civil war and the Japanese occupation The First and Second Danish Expeditions to Central Asia took place in 1936 1937 and 1938 1939 respectively These expeditions were the sole foreign parties with access to the area at the time and therefore their members were among the few observers of Inner Mongolian pastoral society at a time and place for which information was and still is scant and fragmented Hence the material objects and data obtained are of great scientific importance in the documentation of the life and material culture of Inner Mongolian herders in the 1930s the main subject of
