D M Thomas The White Hotel:

The White Hotel D. M. Thomas, 1990-04 A chronicle of a woman's life told first through Freud's letters then through a case history of her analysis and finally through conventional narrative Holocaust Fiction Sue Vice, 2003-09-02 Examining the controversies that have accompanied the publication of novels representing the Holocaust this compelling book explores such literature to analyze their violently mixed receptions and what this says about the ethics and practice of millennial Holocaust literature The novels examined including some for the first time are Time's Arrow by Martin Amis The White Hotel by D M Thomas The Painted Bird by Jerzy Kosinski Schindler's List by Thomas Keneally Sophie's Choice by William Styron The Hand that Signed the Paper by Helen Darville Taking issue with the idea that the Holocaust should only be represented factually this compelling book argues that Holocaust fiction is not only legitimate but an important genre that it is essential to accept In a growing area of interest Sue Vice adds a new intelligent and contentious voice to the key debates within Holocaust studies The Soul is a Far Country Richard K. Cross, 1992 Waiting for the End Earl G. Ingersoll, 2007 Waiting for the End examines two dozen contemporary novels within the context of a half century of theorizing about the function of ending in narrative That theorizing about ending generated a powerful dynamic a quarter century ago with the advent of feminist criticism of masculinist readings of the role played by ending in fiction Feminists such as Theresa de Lauretis in 1984 and more famously Susan Winnett in her 1991 PMLA essay Coming Unstrung were leading voices in a swelling chorus of theorist pointing out the masculinist bias of ending in narrative With the entry of feminist readings of ending it became inevitable that criticism of fiction would become gendered through the recognition of difference transcending a simple binary of female male to establish a spectrum of masculine to feminine endings regardless of the sex of the writer Accordingly Waiting for the End examines pairs of novels one pair by Margaret Atwood and one by Ian McEwan to demonstrate how a writer can offer endings at either end of the gender spectrum Reflections on Modernity in D. M. Thomas's The White Hotel, 2007 Caught by History Ernst van Alphen, 1997 In the face of strong moral and aesthetic pressure to deal with the Holocaust in strictly historical and documentary modes this book discusses why and how reenactment of the Holocaust in art and imaginative literature can be successful in simultaneously presenting analyzing and working through this apocalyptic moment in human history In pursuing his argument the author explores such diverse materials and themes as the testimonies of Holocaust survivors the works of such artists and writers as Charlotte Salomon Christian Boltanski and Armando and the question of what it means to live in a house built by a Jew who was later transported to the death camps He shows that reenactment as an artistic project also functions as a critical strategy one that unlike historical methods requiring a mediator speaks directly to us and lures us into the Holocaust We are then placed in the position of experiencing and being the subjects of that history We are there and history is present but not quite A confrontation with Nazism or with the Holocaust by means of a re enactment takes place within the representational realm of art Our access to this past is no longer mediated by the account of a witness by a narrator by the eye of a photographer We do not respond to a re presentation of the historical event but to a presentation or performance of it and our response is direct or firsthand in a different way That different way of keeping in touch is the subject of inquiry that propels this study

Magical Realism Lois Parkinson Zamora, Wendy B. Faris, 1995 On magical realism in literature D.M. Thomas Bran Nicol, 2004 This book argues that D M Thomas continually stretches the boundaries of the novel to find a suitable form to reflect the the impact of the uniquely violent often nightmarish events of our times on the desires and fantasies within us all
