Nicholson, Neil Barker

Cibse Guide C 1988:

Building Energy Management Systems Geoff Levermore, 2013-07-04 Energy management systems are used to monitor building temperature inside and outside buildings and control the boilers and coolers Energy efficiency is a major cost issue for commerce and industry and of growing importance on university syllabuses Fully revised and updated this text considers new developments in the control of low energy and HVAC systems and contains two new chapters Written for practising engineers essential for control engineers and energy managers in addition to being essential reading for under postgraduate courses in building services and environmental engineering

Homes for the Third Age David G. Robson, Anne-Marie Nicholson, Neil Barker, 1997 This book is a design guide to housing for the elderly which provides generic plans for independent dwelling units and examines the commissioning designing buildings and running of sheltered housing

Air Conditioning Engineering W Peter Jones, 2007-08-31 Designed for students and professional engineers the fifth edition of this classic text deals with fundamental science and design principles of air conditioning engineering systems W P Jones is an acknowledged expert in the field and he uses his experience as a lecturer to present the material in a logical and accessible manner always introducing new techniques with the use of worked examples

Environmental Design Randall Thomas, 2006 Written and edited by a team of specialists at Max Fordham LLP one of the UK's leading environmental and building services engineering consultancies Environmental Design is the result of their extensive experience in designing environmentally friendly buildings The principles of their approach which they have taught in numerous schools of architecture and engineering are clearly presented here The book starts with some basic scientific principles and environmental issues and then moves on to site planning energy use materials and building form Natural ventilation systems high efficiency mechanical equipment and alternative energy sources are also covered State of the art buildings of exceptional quality are incorporated throughout the text and illustrate the authors belief that environmentally responsible architecture can be visually exciting They conclude with a selection of detailed case studies of award winning projects including new for this third edition Beaufort Court King's Langley and the National Trust Headquarters Swindon This book is essential reading for architects engineers planners and students of these disciplines

Homes For Third Age: Design Guide Neil Barker, Anne-Marie Nicholson, 2003-09-02 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an information company

Ecohouse: A Design Guide Christopher Day, Susan Roaf, 2007-08-15 Ecohouse is an exciting and timely text that tells you how to design low energy environmentally friendly buildings today It also provides the foundations for building design in a warming world and stepping stones towards the zero carbon emission buildings of tomorrow Sue Roaf is famed for her approach to design and her awareness of energy efficiency Here she reveals the concepts structures and techniques that lie behind the realization of her ideals By using her own house as a case study Roaf guides the reader through the ideas for energy efficient design or eco design This guide to the ecohouse also explores 21 case studies from around the world from

Norway and Sweden to India and Japan Argentina and Mexico Chapters by Christopher Day Katherine Bohn and Andre Viljoen on ecological building materials and methods and a contribution by Robert and Brenda Vale all experts in this field Ecohouse has a regularly updated companion web site providing further information on all issues relating to Ecohouse and eco design Log on to www.bh.com/companions/ecohouse for a direct link Environmental Management May Cassar,2013-10-18 The key to the survival of museum collections is a stable indoor environment and vital to this is a well maintained building with effective environmental services Environmental Management sets out clearly the theory and practice of achieving an appropriate museum environment for both collections and people The book emphasises the need for planning and places the environmental needs of museum collections at the forefront of the responsibilities of museum managers May Cassar stresses the role of the building as the first line of defence against environmental instability recognising the importance of regular environmental monitoring and control and the division of museum spaces into critical areas housing collections and non critical areas accommodating offices cafes and communal spaces Environmental Management presents a strategic approach to environmental management in contrast to the piecemeal approach to environmental monitoring and control still practised by many museums However rather than providing ready solutions and rigid rules the book introduces principles and ideas on which to base decisions about creating the appropriate environment Metric Handbook Pamela Buxton,2021-11-25 The Metric Handbook is the major handbook of planning and design data for architects and architecture students with over 100 000 copies sold to successive generations of architects and designers It remains the ideal starting point for any project and belongs in every design office The seventh edition references the latest regulations and construction standards and includes new chapters on data centres and logistics facilities alongside basic design data for all the major building types For each building type the book gives the basic design requirements and all the principal dimensional data and succinct guidance on how to use the information and what regulations the designer needs to be aware of As well as buildings the Metric Handbook deals with broader aspects of design such as materials acoustics and lighting and general design data on human dimensions and space requirements The Metric Handbook is the unique reference for solving everyday planning problems

Conservation of Clay and Chalk Buildings Gordon T. Pearson,2015-11-17 This publication provides practical guidance on appropriate methods of conservation and repair of earth buildings using traditional building materials It is the first major work on the subject since Clough Williams Ellis and the Eastwick Fields published Building in Cob Pise and Stabilized Earth in 1947 The book deals with the nature of clay and chalk their qualities and characteristics and the way in which they have been used to construct buildings Advice is given on soils analysis the philosophy of repair techniques and the factors to be considered before altering converting or extending an earth building The author primarily advocates repair techniques using traditional materials but he also considers the role played by certain modern materials and assesses their suitability
