Classical Japanese Cinema Revisited Paperback 2011 Author Catherine Russell:

Classical Japanese Cinema Revisited Catherine Russell, 2011-06-16 Catherine Russell's highly accessible book approaches Japanese cinema as an industry closely modeled on Hollywood focusing on the classical period those years in which the studio system dominated all film production in Japan from roughly 1930 to 1960 Respectful and thoroughly informed about the aesthetics and critical values of the Japanese canon Russell is also critical of some of its ideological tendencies and her analyses provide new insights on class and gender dynamics Russell locates Japanese cinema within a global system of reception and she highlights the importance of the industrial production context of these films Including studies of landmark films by Ozu Kurosawa and other directors this book provides a perfect introduction to a crucial and often misunderstood area of Japanese cultural output With a critical approach that highlights the everydayness of Japanese studio era cinema Catherine Russell demystifies the canon of great Japanese cinema treating it with fewer auteurist and Orientalist assumptions than many other scholars and critics

New Silent Cinema Katherine Groo, Paul Flaig, 2015-09-16 With the success of Martin Scorsese's Hugo 2011 and Michel Hazanavicius's The Artist 2011 nothing seems more contemporary in recent film than the styles forms and histories of early and silent cinemas This collection considers the latest return to silent film alongside the larger historical field of visual repetitions and affective currents that wind their way through 20th and 21st century visual cultures Contributors bring together several fields of research including early and silent cinema studies experimental and new media historiography and archive theory and studies of media ontology and epistemology Chapters link the methods concerns and concepts of early and silent film studies as they have flourished over the last quarter century to the most recent developments in digital culture from YouTube to 3D recasting this contemporary phenomenon in popular culture and new media against key debates and concepts in silent film scholarship An interview with acclaimed Canadian filmmaker Guy Maddin closes out the collection

Transcultural Montage Christian Suhr, Rane Willerslev, 2013-10-01 The disruptive power of montage has often been regarded as a threat to scholarly representations of the social world This volume asserts the opposite that the destabilization of commonsense perception is the very precondition for transcending social and cultural categories The contributors anthropologists filmmakers photographers and curators explore the use of montage as a heuristic tool for comparative analysis in anthropological writing film and exhibition making Exploring phenomena such as human perception memory visibility ritual time and globalization they apply montage to restructure our basic understanding of social reality Furthermore as George E Marcus suggests in the afterword the power of montage that this volume exposes lies in its ability to open the very combustion chamber of social theory by juxtaposing one's claims to knowledge with the path undertaken to arrive at those claims

Routledge Handbook of Trauma in East Asia Tina Burrett, Jeff Kingston, 2023-04-03 This handbook explores trauma in East Asia from the nineteenth to the twenty first century assessing how victims perpetrators and societies have responded to such experiences and to what extent the legacies

When a Woman Ascends the Stairs (Onna ga kaidan o agaru toki) Catherine Russell,2025-03-27 Mikio Naruse s When A Woman Ascends The Stairs 1960 combines high melodrama with modernist film language telling the story of Keiko a bar hostess struggling to succeed in Tokyo s Ginza district Catherine Russell s study of the film provides an in depth analysis of Naruse s distinctive filmmaking from his use of two shots in confined spaces unique lighting techniques and his invisible and rhythmic editing style She analyses the recurring motif of a woman s white stockinged feet climbing stairs considering how this symbolizes the social dynamics of the high class Japanese sex industry that sustains hostess bar culture Russell goes on to argue that the film is a late woman s film which engages with the institutional barriers to woman s success in postwar Japan She situates the film within the trajectory of Naruse s career and analyses how his social critique is balanced with an aestheticization of a harsh and brutally gendered world creating an affective tension that is symptomatic of Naruse s own position as an industrial worker

The Cinema of Naruse Mikio Catherine Russell,2008-09-08 The first English language book dedicated to an analysis of Naruse Mikio one of Japan s most prolific directors whose films provide unique insight into the representation of female subjectivity and modernity in Japan
