Clinical Cancer Prevention Clinical Cancer Prevention:

Clinical Cancer Prevention Hans-Jörg Senn, Florian Otto, 2011-01-21 This book is based on presentations by some of the world's leading experts at the Sixth International Conference on Clinical Cancer Prevention held in St Gallen Switzerland during March 2010. The main themes are the latest advances in the prevention of breast and prostate cancer and the role of infection in the development of liver and gastric cancer. Special emphasis is given to perspectives on the chemoprevention of breast cancer as the conference included an international consensus meeting on this subject. New research findings are presented and potentially more effective cancer prevention strategies are discussed with careful consideration of controversies. The expertise of the contributors encompasses genetics and microbiology, epidemiology and health economics as well as clinical cancer prevention. This book will be of interest to all who wish to learn about the most recent progress in combating the development of cancer.

Cancer Prevention II Hans-Jörg Senn, Ursula Kapp, Florian Otto, 2008-11-28 More than 180 participants and experts from 31 countries met for the fifth time in 10 years in St Gallen Switzerland for a 3 day conference to discuss important current issues of clinical cancer prevention. The meeting was again organized and co-sponsored by St Gallen Oncology Conferences SONK. While SONK has been extremely successful in organizing large international congresses on Primary Therapy of Early Breast Cancer as well as Supportive Care in Cancer for more than 20 years, the idea of promoting interdisciplinary clinically oriented meetings on cancer prevention is a more recent and not yet generally accepted and welcomed concept in modern oncology. Since today's medical expenses are soaring and medical research budgets are stagnating or even being cut, neither politicians nor industry is willing to risk an additional unpredictable channel of expenses such as that demanded by clinical cancer prevention efforts. In Switzerland and we fear in many other parts of the globe, some 97% 98% or even a greater percentage of health budgets is spent for curative and palliative rehabilitative medicine. Since a meager 2% 3% of national health budgets is for preventive medicine, even less than that proportion is specifically allocated for cancer prevention. When the money for curing and caring for the diseased populace runs short, there is likely not much left for partly controversial disease prevention in the still healthy part of the population.

Chemoprevention of Cancer H.-J. Senn, Alberto Costa, Craig Jordan, 2012-12-06 Pharmacologic interventions to prevent the evolution of human cancers are still in its infancy although a good number of mostly controlled clinical studies have been performed in the past two decades However regarding the partially stagnating therapeutic results of major epithelial cancer types such as breast lung colon and ENT cancer types the problem of interference with the evolution of disease at a preclinical level is an intriguing one and the field seems to develop into one of the fastest growing domains of modern oncology This process is facilitated by the developments of molecular oncogenetics and the growing existence of family cancer units allowing to better identify and inform respective high risk groups thus enabling researchers and clinicians to more realistically target their chemopreventive efforts to the true populations at risk On this changing background the newly formed International Society of Cancer Chemoprevention ISCaC together with the Swiss Cancer League and the Interdisciplinary Oncology Center of St Gallen Switzerland organized an international Symposium in September 1997 inviting basic researchers epidemiologists and clinical oncologists of related disciplines to discuss pertinent issues of experimental and clinical chemo and bio prevention in a scientific workshop NCI Fellowship in Clinical Cancer Prevention Research ,2005* Cancer Prevention and Screening Rosalind A. Eeles, Christine D. Berg, Jeffrey S. Tobias, 2018-08-15 Winner of the Council Chair's Choice Award at the 2019 British Medical Association Awards Cancer Prevention and Screening offers physicians and all clinical healthcare professionals a comprehensive useful source of the latest information on cancer screening and prevention with both a global and a multidisciplinary perspective

Includes background information on epidemiology cancer prevention and cancer screening for quick reference Offers the latest information for clinical application of the most recent techniques in prevention and screening of all major and many lesser cancer types Emphasises the importance of multidisciplinary teamwork in cancer screening Highlights frequent dilemmas and difficulties encountered during cancer screening Provides clear cut clinical strategies for optimal patient education communication and compliance with cancer prevention techniques
