The Persuasion Industries Steven McKeivitt,2018-08-09 At the end of the twentieth century Britain was a consumer society Commerce intoxicating and addictive had almost entirely colonized modern life People were immersed in and ultimately defined by promotional culture The things they consumed had overtaken class religion geography or occupation as the primary form of self identity and self expression For much of the twentieth century all forms of brand communication from political campaigning to product advertising were based on the theory of rational appeals to rational consumers. There was only one problem with this theory: it was wrong. The Persuasion Industries: The Making of Modern Britain examines developments in marketing, advertising, public relations and branding. It explores the role they played in the emergence of the consumer society. New ideas from fields of behavioural psychology and economics together with internal developments such as planning, positioning and corporate branding allowed persuasion to become the driving force within many commercial enterprises. Together these changes led to the emergence of an alternative emotional model of brand communication. A simple idea that proved so compelling it changed the world we live in. Campaigns that Shook the World Danny Rogers, 2015. Campaigns that Shook the World examines the most extraordinary PR campaigns from the 1970s to the present day showcasing the impact of PR excellence. PR для малого бизнеса. Кратко, ясно, просто Стив Бастин, 2019-03-28. Discovering Our World Paul Singh, John R. Shook, 2015-04-01. Where did everything come from? Why are humans so biologically similar and why do we let small differences divide us? What shall determine our destiny? Paul Singh and John R. Shook draw on the latest findings from the physical and biological sciences: astronomy and cosmology, geology and genetics and prehistory and archeology in search of answers. As they lucidly and engagingly demonstrate the answers science gives about ourselves and the universe in which we live are incomparably more surprising and interesting than any mythical tale about some clash of titans or calculating creator. Indeed, science's proud journey of exploration and discovery is humanity's finest narrative yet about how we trusted our intelligence to find out what we really are and who we can be intrepidly going wherever the evidence led. Even though science reveals that humanity may have no special place in the universe, humanity is truly special because of our ability to comprehend our universe. Thus this inspiring story of exploration and discovery is a celebration not only of science of science's knowledge of the world and of science's own journeys to gain that knowledge but also of ourselves.
