Laughing at the Dark Barbara Else, 2023-04-04 From the best selling and acclaimed author Barbara Else Laughing at the Dark is a funny moving memoir about how she rebelled against being a good girl By the time she was in her forties Barbara was married to a globally recognised academic physician and had two beautiful teenage daughters As her writing career developed her husband became angry at the prospect of her being anything but a housewife In a moment of madness or realisation she packed her car and took off to live with the man who would become her second husband With her trademark wit and humour Barbara poignantly describes her transformation from a shy but stubborn child into a fulfilled and successful adult I laughed and laughed and I cried and cried It s got everything in it except a murder

Glimpses by Sea and Land Mary L. Evans, 1885 Glimpses of the Past Virley

Martin, 2012-05-17 This manuscript is one of kind nothing has ever been written like it before the story begins in 1941 with the first memory I can date and what I remember and explains why I grew up so completely different from the majority of other children that I went to school with I begin in Petaluma California as a small boy and continue through the years telling of the hardships struggles and sorrows my family and relatives faced as they worked and camped in the different orchards on Highway 99 or the 101 and barely making enough money to feed them and buy gas to the next job Then during the winter each year Dad worked on chicken ranches or such until the spring when we would start all over again That happened until the summer of 1949 when my family settled in Yountville California and where the story ends when I joined the Navy at age seventeen on the 18th of January 1955 When Comes the Spring (Canadian West Book #2) Janette Oke, 2005-02-01

Elizabeth the cultured young schoolteacher from the East has braved the western frontier and spent a year teaching in a one room schoolhouse How she and Wynn are planning their wedding and their new life together at his outpost in the far north While Wynn is accustomed to life in the north Elizabeth is not Can their love for each other sustain them through a harsh winter loneliness and rigors of life without any of the conveniences they re used to Book 2 of the bestselling Canadian West series Glimpses Through the Cannon-smoke Archibald Forbes,1881 R.M. Patterson David Finch,2000 I think that will be a great adventure said R M Patterson s mentor at the Bank of England when informed of the young man s decision to leave for Canada in 1924 He could not have known all the adventures that awaited Patterson in the Canadian wilds This biography goes with Patterson to the Peace River country of northern Alberta where he homesteaded and on to the Northwest Territories where he lived out his dream questing after the fabled Nahanni gold on the River of Death There his escapades earned him the title Hard to Kill and provided the basis for Patterson s bestseller The Dangerous River Patterson then married sweetheart Marigold Portman in 1929 and took up cattle and dude ranching on the Buffalo Head Ranch in the foothills of the Canadian Rockies Not content to just settle down and raise a family he also used the ranch as a base for his adventures and spent the next 16 years exploring the high country of the Continental Divide with such colourful characters as George Pocater and Adolf Baumgart In the late 1940s the Patterson family moved to Vancouver Island where RMP continued his exploration of remote northern rivers in British Columbia and the Northwest Territories And he returned to his beloved Nahanni three more times By the time of his death in 1984 Patterson had become a Canadian legend both for his exploits and for his five published books and numerous articles His vivid portrayal of the Canadian wilderness has never been bettered Through Patterson s diaries and letters and through personal communication with Patterson s family and friends David Finch has created a fascinating portrait of a man who lived life to the fullest
