The Canadian Monthly and National Review Anonymous, 2023-04-27 Reprint of the original first published in 1872
The Canadian Monthly and National Review Graeme Mercer Adam, George Stewart, 1878 The Canadian Monthly and National Review, 1872 Rose-Belford's Canadian Monthly and National Review, 1880 Rose-Belford's Canadian Monthly and National Review Graeme Mercer Adam, George Stewart, 1880 A Critical Spirit McKillop, 1977-01-15 This volume contains the major writings of this neglected figure in the intellectual history of Canada his defence of the intellectual life his advocacy of a scientific evolutionary ethos his indictment of the political morality and popular government of his day and his application of the critical spirit to the writing of Canadian history University Women Sara Z. MacDonald, 2021-11-15 Bessie Scott nearing the end of her first year at university in the spring of 1890 recorded in her diary Wore my gown for first time It didn't seem at all strange to do so Often deemed a cumbersome tradition by men the cap and gown were dearly prized by women as an outward sign of their hard won admission to the rank of undergraduates For the first generations of university women higher education was an exhilarating and transformative experience but these opportunities would narrow in the decades that followed In University Women Sara MacDonald explores the processes of integration and separation that marked women's contested entrance into higher education Examining the period between 1870 and 1930 this book is the first to provide a comparative study of women at universities across Canada MacDonald concludes that women's higher education cannot be seen as a progressive narrative a triumphant story of trailblazers and firsts of doors being thrown open and staying open The early promise of equal education was not fulfilled in the longer term as a backlash against the growing presence of women on campuses resulted in separate academic programs closer moral regulation and barriers that restricted their admission into the burgeoning fields of science technology engineering and mathematics The modernization of higher education ultimately marginalized women students researchers and faculty within the diversified universities of the twentieth century University Women uncovers the systemic inequalities based on gender race and class that have shaped Canadian higher education It is indispensable reading for those concerned with the underrepresentation of girls and women in STEM and current initiatives to address issues of access and equity within our academic institutions The Canadian Magazine, 1894 Sir John George Bourinot, Victorian Canadian Margaret Banks, 2001-04-23 As clerk of the House of Commons Bourinot advised the speaker and other members of the house on parliamentary procedure he also wrote the standard Canadian work on the subject A founding member of the Royal Society of Canada he played a leading role during the Society's first twenty years Ahead of his time in writing intellectual history Bourinot was also an early supporter of higher education for women He was a man of contrasts an early Canadian nationalist as well as an imperialist In spite of the constitutional changes of 1982 there is still much in Bourinot's writing that is relevant today The National Review, 1897
