Cancer Ribbon Pins:

Ribbon Culture Sarah E.H. Moore,2008-01-17 This book explores the history meaning and sociological implications of awareness campaigns seeing them as personal displays of compassion in a culture where empathy is a by word for authenticity It also highlights how charities use awareness campaigns to reach their audience and the transformation of charity into a commercial enterprise Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2007 Cancer in the Lives of Older Americans Sarah H. Kagan,2012-02-23 The oldest old individuals aged 85 and above are the most rapidly growing segment of American society And although more than a third of cancer occurs in people over 75 years of age their tumors are less fully diagnosed and often less fully treated than those in younger patients Ageism may account for this discrepancy why intervene if an older man or woman with cancer doesn't have long to live anyway Yet older people often tolerate chemotherapy surgery and radiation as well as younger patients while continuing to maintain their quality of life for years to come The lack of clinical trials among this age group results in a deficit of knowledge regarding how to treat cancer in older adults Little has been written to guide clinicians social scientists families and individuals In Cancer in the Lives of Older Americans Blessings and Battles Sarah H Kagan writes from the perspective of more than twenty years of practice inquiry and education as a nurse She uses anecdotes and case studies to illustrate important points about cancer among older adults The book follows the story of Mrs Eck a woman in her 80s diagnosed with pancreatic cancer Mrs Eck's situation sets the stage for a discussion of cancer which too often focuses on cells and drugs diagnoses and prognoses without looking more closely at the people who experience the disease Chapters offer varied assessments of what it means to be old and have cancer in our society as Kagan explores other real experiences of cancer for older adults alongside information that will prove essential to patients their families scholars and clinicians Journal of the National Cancer Institute ,1994 Cause Related Marketing Sue Adkins,2007-06-01 Cause Related Marketing's time has come Consumers are demanding greater accountability and responsibility from corporations In an environment where price and quality are increasingly equal where reputation and standing for something beyond the functional benefits of a product or service is all brands are constantly competing for customer loyalty and consumer attention Cause Related Marketing is one of the most exciting areas in marketing today which benefits both business and society Cause Related Marketing positions Cause Related Marketing in the context of marketing corporate social responsibility and corporate community investment explores who cares and why providing research analysis into corporate and consumer attitudes both in the UK and internationally uses The Business in the Community Cause Related Marketing Guidelines written by Sue Adkins and introduced by HRH The Prince of Wales providing an in depth exploration of the key principles and processes that go towards creating excellence in Cause Related Marketing includes vignettes and in depth case studies to provide illustrations of Cause Related Marketing through a spectrum of examples both national and international Sue Adkins Director of the Business in the Community's Cause Related

Marketing Campaign is acknowledged as an international expert She is recognised as having put Cause Related Marketing on the map in the UK and leading the drive to establish Cause Related Marketing as an increasingly legitimate part of the marketing mix in the UK

No Family History Sabrina McCormick, 2009-06-16 No Family History presents compelling evidence of environmental links to breast cancer ranging from everyday cosmetics to industrial waste Sabrina McCormick weaves the story of one survivor with no family history into a powerful exploration of the big business of breast cancer As drugs pink products and corporate sponsorships generate enormous revenue to find a cure a growing number of experts argue that we should instead increase focus on prevention reducing environmental exposures that have contributed to the sharp increase of breast cancer rates But the dollars continue to pour into the search for a cure and the companies that profit including some pharmaceutical and cosmetics companies may in fact contribute to the environmental causes of breast cancer No Family History shows how profits drive our public focus on the cure rather than prevention and suggests new ways to reduce breast cancer rates in the future

Pink Ribbons, Inc. Samantha King, 2008-05-19 Samantha King explains how beyond being an all too frequent and still too lethal disease for many women breast cancer is a corporate dream come true Herizons Fascinating King s deft and thoughtful interpretation of the pink ribbon phenomenon is an important wake up call Going against the grain she takes a clear eyed look at a trend that often seems to outshine the disease that put it on the map Women s Review of Books King s criticisms of breast cancer philanthropy provide a new means of looking at one of our culture s most celebrated causes For anyone who has ever squirreled away yogurt lids for the cause Pink Ribbons Inc is food for thought Bitch A fascinating read for anyone whose life has been touched by breast cancer Curve Breast cancer advocacy is being transformed from meaningful civic participation into purchasing products To understand the personal social and political costs read this book Barbara Brenner Executive Director of Breast Cancer Action In Pink Ribbons Inc Samantha King traces how breast cancer has been transformed from a stigmatized disease and individual tragedy to a market driven industry of survivorship Here for the first time King questions the effectiveness and legitimacy of privately funded efforts to stop the epidemic among American women Highly revelatory at times shocking Pink Ribbons Inc challenges the commercialization of the breast cancer movement Samantha King is associate professor of physical and health education and women s studies at Queen s University in Kingston Ontario

Handbook of Marketing and Society Paul N. Bloom, Gregory Thomas Gundlach, 2001 Marketing scholars have a long history of conducting research on how marketing affects the welfare of society A significant body of knowledge has developed to look beyond marketing s impact on the corporate bottom line towards the affects of marketing on consumer sovereignty public health economic growth and other aspect of societal welfare The large and growing amount of research has become fragmented and diverse There is a need for a volume to pull all of this research together to facilitate the assessment of what we have learned and what we need to study further This volume fills that need Handbook of Marketing and Society presents the first comprehensive in depth examination of scholarly research on how marketing affects societal welfare Drawing on the talents of a distinguished group of contributors the editors have assembled key reviews analyses and perspectives on a broad range of research topics including deceptive advertising warning labels trademark infringement antitrust enforcement environmental labels privacy protection social marketing and corporate societal marketing An unifying model is presented in the introduction that illustrates the linkage of marketing knowledge marketing decisions and societal welfare Each chapter covers in a purposeful way a different link or path through which marketing can affect societal welfare Future research needs are identified in each chapter in order to help focus marketing thinking and marketing practice serve society more effectively Academics graduate students and others interested in marketing's role in society will find this a valuable resource and an excellent guidebook for future research
