Russell-Brown,2023-01-10 A celebration of twelve Black women who were pivotal to the civil rights movement and the fight for justice and equal rights in America On the Black Caucus American Library Association's Best of the Best 2023 List You've heard the names Rosa Parks and Coretta Scott King but what about the many other women who were crucial to the civil rights movement Told through twelve short biographies this book celebrates just some of the many Black women each of whom has been largely underrepresented until now who were instrumental to the nation's fight for civil rights and the contributions they made in driving the Movement forward An empowering eye opening look at how one person can impact greater change this book is both a conversation starter and much needed history lesson for our modern world Children of the Waters of Meribah Allan Aubrey Boesak,2019-09-17 In the decades since Black liberation theology burst onto the scene it has turned the world of church society and academia upside down It has changed lives and ways of thinking as well But now there is a question What lessons has Black theology not learned as times have changed In this expansion of the 2017 Yale Divinity School Beecher Lectures Allan Boesak explores this question If Black liberation theology had taken the issues discussed in these pages much more seriously struggled with them much more intensely thoroughly and honestly would it have been in a better position to help oppressed black people in Africa the United States and oppressed communities everywhere as they have faced the challenges of the last twenty five years In a critical self critical engagement with feminist and especially African feminist theologians in a trans disciplinary conversation Allan Boesak as Black liberation theologian from the Global South offers tentative but intriguing responses to the vital questions facing Black liberation theology today particularly those questions raised by the women
