sun and shade loving plants Pollination propagation and grafting Mulching hilling trellises and those oh so fancy espaliers Troubleshooting pesky spots scales worms flies and other killjoys Preventing weather damage and prepping your plants for winter Harvesting and storage methods With a primer on what exactly counts as fruit scientifically and culturally and Prairie friendly lists of species and varieties for every space and inclination you ll soon know your drupes from your pomes your berries from your pepos and be well on your way to harvesting the fruits of your own labour yes we went there Growing Vegetables in Your Garden - Tips for Planting Vegetable Crops Outside Dueep Jyot Singh, John Davidson, 2016-01-30 Table of Contents Introduction Time of Planting Vegetable Crops and Cold Resistance Planting Seeds Depth Why Are Rows Necessary Planting Methods Planting Rate of Seeds Thinning of Your Plants Transplanting Setting Plants by Hand And Machines Watering Your Plants Puddling Using Plant Protectors Conclusion Author Bio Publisher Introduction It does not matter whether you are an experienced gardener or are just a newbie beginning to learn a brand new field of growing your own fruit and vegetables growing vegetables in your own garden especially in the open depends on a number of factors This book is going to tell you all about how you can plant vegetable crops in the open and especially give you a number of tips about the other necessary factors which are going to help you get a plentiful harvest at the end of the growing season The time and the method of planting seeds and plants of a particular species especially in the open is going to determine up to a certain extent of the success or the failure of your particular crop This is also going to rest on a number of factors which may be influencing the rate of growth and other factors which monitor your plant growth from germination to harvest Even with a good seed or a good plant satisfactory and prolific crops are not going to be produced unless the planting is done at the right time and in a proper manner If we were living millenniums ago we would go to our local priest who incidentally happened to be a well experienced farmer himself who would tell us about the best day when we would be planting our crops According to him he looked at the stars and consulted them He also called upon the good spirits and the Gods to aid in a bountiful harvest Naturally we very well impressed would consider them really wise men not knowing that they used the experiences of their own predecessors in order to transfer that knowledge to you amidst lots of showmanship like calling up on the Gods and the spirits and talking to them Down the ages we have learned without the aid of priests that attention must be given to the preparation of the soil for the seedbed to the depth of the planting to the rate of planting and the amount of available space given to the plants in order to grow and also to other factors such as thinning de weeding and watering to ensure a satisfactory harvest of your plants Also the climate is also going to have a great effect upon the final result Millenniums ago the priest just put his nose out of his window looked at the snow falling and then told you that the Gods had spoken it was not time to plant any crop and he would give you the word And then he would wait till the coming of the spring and then when the whole world decided to wake up and the snow started melting he would immediately get a message from his best friends the good spirits and all the ancient all powerful Gods who demanded that the seeds be sown right then And so singing and dancing at the coming of the spring all of us from the village would accompanied by the priest go to our lands start preparing the land which we had dug up the previous autumn winter to get ready for the spring sowing So what the wise men of yore knew through experience was the time of planting when the weather would be conducive enough to give one a good harvest and receptive enough to welcome the planting of seedlings and the plants outside So that is when we come to time of planting
