Challenges Of The Third Age Meaning And Purpose In Later Life:

Challenges of the Third Age Robert S. Weiss, Scott A. Bass, 2001-11-08 The newly retired are entering a time of life that is virtually uncharted a time in which they are free from social expectations and to a large extent from obligations to others Life's meanings are no longer provided by work and family Instead men and women have the freedom and the need to find new activities that they can imbue with meaning The term Third Age has been given to this time of life during which for most there is relatively good health financial stability and reduced family obligations The problems and possibilities of this Third Age serve as the material for this book How do older people decide how to deploy their continued vitality now that they are free from the demands of work and children How do they find meaning in daily life In this book scholars from several disciplines consider the way in which meaning can be found in this important stage of later life They discuss sociological psychological and religious determinants of responses to the challenges of finding meaningful activity after retirement

Challenges of the Third Age Robert Stuart Weiss, Scott A. Bass, 2002 This volume addresses the issues of the Third Age that time after retirement when financial stability and reduced obligations to others together allow for freedom and good health makes it possible to enjoy that freedom How in this special time of life is meaning and purpose to be found And what alternatives are available These difficult questions are responded to by scholars in the field of aging some themselves in the Third Age

Gerontology in the Era of the Third Age Dawn C. Carr, Kathrin S. Komp, 2011-02-22 The third age is described as the period in the life course that occurs after retirement but prior to the onset of disability revealing a period in which individuals have the capacity to remain actively engaged This book serves as a comprehensive discussion about how the emergence of the third age has changed the way we think about and examine traditional frameworks regarding aging issues and the life course It introduces the discussion of the unique challenges and opportunities that older adults face while moving through this early phase of later life proposing new frameworks concepts and methods to re-examine later life in the context of the era of the third age This book proposes new ways of thinking about how we conceptualize the life course think about the role of the welfare state in the lives of older people negotiate social roles in later life make meaning of our lives as we age and cultivate relationships with others during later life It brings together theoretical concepts and frameworks methodological advances and emerging themes and controversies that are redefining gerontology in the era of the Third Age Highlighting important issues that warrant further exploration and discussion this book advances our understanding of the Third Age and focuses attention on critical issues that should be addressed in future Third Age research and scholarly development Key Features Includes up to date description and analysis of the third age as a concept life phase and social status Addresses multiple perspectives to illustrate the impact of the third age on the way we examine later life Uses disciplinary perspectives such as social policy demography gerontology sociology social work anthropology and social psychology Examines mechanisms that stratify the older population in the context of the third age Environmental

Gerontology Rick Scheidt, Benjamin Schwarz, 2013-09-13 Environmental gerontology the research on aging and environment evolved during the late 1960s when the domain became a relevant topic due to societal concerns with the problems of housing for elderly people The field proliferated during the 1970s and 1980s and remains viable and active today on an international scale However in recent times the viability of the field and its future has been brought into question In this volume international experts across diverse areas reflect on the current progress of their respective disciplines illustrating research grounded benefits emerging from their work and suggesting new agenda that can guide progress in the future The contributors address a wide range of issues including evaluation of existing paradigms and new theories that might advance both research and training issues and applications in methods measures and empirically generated research agenda innovative approaches to environmental transformations in home community and long term care settings and understudied populations and issues in environmental gerontology This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Housing for the Elderly

Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 26, 2006, 2006-08-25 As the population of retirees between the ages of 65 and 75 continues to grow professionals researchers and educators in all areas of the health care and the business sectors will require more expertise on the latest trends to make better decisions and improve systems Contributed by nationally recognized experts The Crown of Life Dynamics of the Early Post Retirement Period presents some of the most important and current decision making research describing life between the ages of 65 and 75 Topics cover many aspects and social issues of retirement including Demographics Functioning and Well being Aging Black Americans Late Middle Age The Impact of Work Change and Stability Health and Religiousness Social Relations Leisure Activities Male Satisfaction Everyday Life Gay Lives Retirement Community Life For anyone interested in the key issues and current trends of this growing population editors Jacquelyn Boone James and Paul Wink provide one of the most important and current expert collections dedicated to the Crown of Life period About the Series Now celebrating its 26th year this series of annual reviews established by Carl Eisdorfer is designed to encompass the broad spectrum of concerns in aging including psychology biology medicine sociology and public policy The goal is to present reviews of the highest quality and to address those important questions that are salient to all gerontologists

Lifelong Learning in Later Life Brian Findsen, Marvin Formosa, 2012-03-26 This first truly comprehensive interdisciplinary international critique of theory and practice in lifelong learning as it relates to later life is an absolute tour de force Alexandra Withnall Universities of Warwick and Leicester UK This is a book that needed to be written it provides a most thorough and skilful analysis of a comprehensive range of contemporary literature about learning in later life from many localities and countries of the world Peter Jarvis Professor Emeritus University of Surrey Impressive in its scope this handbook seeks to describe older learning critically within the lifelong learning literature at the same time that it makes a strong and persuasive case for taking older learning seriously in our postmodern world Kenneth Wain University of Malta Lifelong learning in later life is an essential handbook for a wide range of people who work alongside older adults in varied contexts This handbook brings together both orthodox approaches to educational gerontology and fresh perspectives on important emerging issues faced by seniors around the globe Issues discussed include the social construction of ageing the importance of lifelong learning policy and practice participation in later life learning education of marginalised groups within older communities inter generational learning volunteering and active ageing the political economy of older adulthood learning for better health and well being and the place of seniors in a learning society Brian Findsen is a professor of adult education Faculty of Education University of Waikato Hamilton New Zealand His writings are usually constructed within a social justice framework such as The Fourth Sector Adult and Community Education in Aotearoa New Zealand edited with John Benseman and Miriama Scott in 1996 and Learning later 2005 Marvin Formosa is a lecturer in the European Centre for Gerontology University of Malta Msida Malta In addition to various articles focusing on critical educational gerontology recent and forthcoming books include Social Class Dynamics in Later Life 2009 and Social Class in Later Life Power Identity and Lifestyle with Paul Higgs 2012

The University of the Third Age and Active Ageing Marvin Formosa, 2019-07-01 This comparative resource charts the interface between the University of the Third Age U3A movement and active ageing and in doing so offers a comprehensive and thorough understanding of what U3A means in different geographical and sociocultural contexts After first providing introductory chapters to introduce the U3A movement and active ageing in global perspective and tracing the origins of U3As in France the book sets off charting the international development of U3As in both European and Asian Pacific contexts Deliberately the book moves away from the dominant Anglo centric US and UK rooted analyses of U3As to account for contexts of different political ideology sociocultural values geography and degrees of urbanisation and industrialisation Lastly it thematises foreseeable issues concerns and predicaments that the global U3A movement faces while meeting the challenges and seizing the opportunities presented by active ageing The chapters comparative perspectives encompass Origins and development The Francophone model of U3As The development and characteristics of U3As in European and Asian Pacific geographies From social welfare to educational gerontology U3As in China Russia Taiwan Malaysia and South Korea U3As in Italy Spain and Sweden A dynamic flexible and accessible learning model Late life learning for social inclusion U3As in Poland Iceland United Kingdom and Malta The U3A movement in Australia From statewide networking to community engagement Cross cultural perspectives on U3As The case of Thailand The University of the Third Age and Active Ageing boasts welcome contributions to the scholarship on the different histories structures and challenges posed by national U3As Readers from a variety of backgrounds and research interests including gerontology geriatrics active ageing older adult learning comparative education and educational technology will find this a necessary and valuable resource in better understanding a globalised U3A world The University of the Third Age and Active Ageing European and Asian Pacific Perspectives contributes to the deep well of histories experiences structures accomplishments and problems of national U3As

It emerges as a tapestry of extraordinary research that offers to guide the U3A movement as it soon enters its fiftieth year of existence Prof Stephen Katz Trent University Ruptured Voices: Trauma and Recovery Karen O'Donnell, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 Trauma is no longer and perhaps has never been an uncommon occurrence it is now commonplace in human experience Notoriously difficult to define when one tries to offer a definition of trauma that works across disciplines and beyond the boundaries of subjects one enters a new territory This collection participates in a reconstructive movement in which the boundaries of trauma trauma theory and trauma recovery are flung wide The vastly differing experiences contexts and critical reflections of the contributors serve to ensure this monograph offers a fresh voice in the field of Trauma Studies This collection of essays on trauma seeks to open dialogue and expand discussion Blurring the boundaries of traditional disciplinary lines this monograph strives to interrupt and rupture the debate on trauma It is in the fissures created by such rupture that new and compelling voices can be heard
