Change And Possibilities Poems That Inspire:

Change and Possibilities Jackie Dove-Miller, 2015-01-19 Change and Possibilities is a collection of poems that invites readers to find the places inside themselves that need to be nurtured so that they become empowered and through that empowerment create change. The poems fall into two categories: those that speak to God's power and presence and those that reveal our human struggles as we seek to lift ourselves from our daily grind. Politics and the Rhetoric of Poetry

, 2022-06-13 The rich and varied nature of twentieth century Anglo Irish and Irish poetry is reflected in the essays presented in Politics and the Rhetoric of Poetry: Perspectives on Modern Anglo Irish Poetry. The linguistic and theoretical observations formulated in close readings of apparently non political texts disclose implied political positions and suggest to what extent rhetoric and the nature of language are at the root of such questions as: how should we read contemporary poetry? How can poems play a part in the resolution of the political and historic conflict? Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill's versions of 'The T' in Brendan Kennelly's 'Cromwell', Paul Muldoon's 'Madoc' and Ciaran Carson's 'Belfast Confetti' are analysed in detail, as is the relationship between rhetoric and politics in Seamus Heaney and Derek Mahon. Earlier twentieth century poets such as Thomas Kinsella, John Hewitt, Patrick Kavanagh, John Montague, Louis MacNeice and Padraic Colum are also examined. The contingent nature of language is recognized by many of these poets and the seventeen essays bring out the political charge hidden in the poetry. This includes the deliberate choice of the poetic form, the internal dialogue or the complexity of voices in the poem and a particular preoccupation with endings. These essays demonstrate Yeats's contention that 'Deliberation can be so intensified that it becomes synonymous with inspiration'. Poetry Insights: A Guide to Decoding and Enjoying Modern Verse
