

SAFETY PRECAUTIONS

The following check should be performed for the continued protection of the customer and service technician.

LEAKAGE CURRENT CHECK

Before returning the unit to the customer, make sure you made either (1) a leakage current check or (2) a line to chassis resistance check. If the leakage current exceeds 0.5 milliamperes, or if the resistance from chassis to either side of the power cord is less than 400 ohms, the unit is defective.

CAUTION Please heed the points listed below during servicing and inspection.

○ Heed the cautions!

Beards requiring particular attention when servicing, such as the cabinet, parts, chassis, etc., have cautions indicated in words or signs. Be sure to heed these cautions and the cautions included in the handling instructions.

○ Caution concerning electric shock!

(1) An AC voltage is impressed on the set, so touching internal metal parts when the set is energized could cause electric shock. Take care to avoid electric shock, for example, when using an isolation transformer and gloves when servicing while the set is energized, unplugging the power cord when replacing parts, etc.

(2) There are high voltage parts inside. Handle with care when the set is energized.

○ Caution concerning disassembly and assembly!

Though great care is taken when manufacturing parts from sheet metal, there may in some rare cases be burrs on the edges of parts which could cause injury if fingers are moved across them. Use gloves to protect your hands.

○ Only use designated parts!

The set's parts have specific safety properties (for example, service voltage resistance, etc.). For replacement parts, be sure to use parts which have the same properties. In particular, for the important safety parts that are marked  or spring diagrams and parts lists, be sure to use the designated parts.

○ Be sure to mount parts and arrange the wires as they were originally!

For safety reasons, some parts use tape. Wires or other insulating materials, and some parts are mounted inside the surface of printed circuit boards. Care is also taken with the positions of the wires inside and clamps are used to keep wires away from heating and high voltage parts, so be sure to set everything back as it was originally.

○ Inspect for safety after servicing!

Check that all screws, parts and wires removed or disconnected for servicing have been put back in their original positions, inspect that no parts around the area that has been serviced have been negatively affected, conduct an insulation check on the external metal connections and between the bases of the power plug and otherwise check that safety is ensured.

(Insulation check procedure)

Using the power cord from the power cable, disconnect the antenna, plugs, etc., and turn the power switch on. Using a 500V insulation resistance tester, check that the insulation resistance between the terminals of the power plug and the externally exposed metal parts (antenna terminal, telephone terminal, microphone terminal, input terminal, etc.) is 75MΩ or greater. If it is less, the set must be inspected and repaired.

CAUTION Concerning important safety parts

Many of the electric and structural parts used in the set have special safety properties. In most cases these properties are difficult to distinguish by sight, and using replacement parts with higher ratings (rated power and withstand voltage) does not necessarily guarantee that safety performance will be preserved. Parts with safety properties are indicated as shown below on the wiring diagrams and parts lists in the service manual. Be sure to replace them with parts with the designated part number.

(1) Schematic diagrams — Indicated by the  mark.

(2) Parts lists — Indicated by the  mark.

Using parts other than the designated parts could result in electric shock, fire, or other dangerous situations.
