

Convicted by Juries, Exonerated by Science

June 1996

"Our system of criminal justice is best described as a search for truth. Increasingly, the forensic use of DNA technology is an important ally in that search. By highlighting the importance and utility of DNA evidence, this report challenges the scientific and justice community. Among the tasks ahead are the following: maintaining the highest standards for the collection and preservation of DNA evidence, ensuring DNA testing methodology meets rigorous scientific criteria for reliability and accuracy...." Fighting the Death Penalty Eugene G. Wanger, 2017-04-01 Michigan is the only state in the country that has a death penalty prohibition in its constitution Eugene G Wanger s compelling arguments against capital punishment is a large reason it is there The forty pieces in this volume are writings created or used by the author who penned the prohibition clause during his fifty years as a death penalty abolitionist His extraordinary background in forensics law and political activity as constitutional convention delegate and co chairman of the Michigan Committee Against Capital Punishment has produced a remarkable collection It is not only a fifty year history of the anti death penalty argument in America it also is a detailed and challenging example of how the argument against capital punishment may be successfully made Pathology Jean Ford,2014-09-02

Real life crime dramas on television intrigue us with the details of postmortem examinations leading to the arrest of murder suspects but how do forensic pathologists the doctors who investigate unnatural deaths and chilling crime scenes actually bring criminals to justice The story lies in the body of evidence Literally The human body provides a wealth of scientific evidence that allows forensic pathology or legal medicine to help resolve criminal cases and convict even most elusive perpetrators The human body records the story of a crime in the language of cuts wounds and bruises and in the fingerprints and bloodstains Forensic pathologists are trained to scrutinize and interpret this evidence in ways no other scientist can Examining victims remains from the outside in forensic pathologists investigate every inch of the human landscape to discover when how and why the victim died Sometimes a time of death is all a jury needs to convict a suspect of murder and forensic pathologists are experts at uncovering this crucial evidence Visiting crime scenes collecting bodies in the middle of the night and excavating suspicious burial grounds are all in a day s work for the sake of bringing justice to victims who can no longer speak for themselves
