

Auto Correction of Hand Home Positions

Strong magnetism or impact can cause the hands and/or day setting to be off, even if the watch is able to perform the signal reception operation. Auto-correction of hand home positions corrects the hand position automatically.

- Auto-correction is performed in the Timekeeping Mode only.
- Auto-correction corrects the positions of the [1] Hour Hand, [2] Minute Hand, and [3] Second Hand. For the dial hands and day, you must perform the manual adjustment procedure under "Adjusting Home Positions Manually".
- Each hour, the watch performs automatic correction of the hand positions from -55 minutes to +5 minutes.
- You also can trigger auto-correction of hand-home positions manually, if you want. See "To trigger auto-correction of hand home positions" for more information.
- Auto-correction of hand home positions can take up to three and a half minutes to complete.
- If hand positions are off by one hour or more, correct them using the procedure under "To trigger auto-correction of hand home positions" or "Adjusting Home Positions Manually".

To trigger auto-correction of hand home positions

- Perform the following procedure when the time setting is off. In the Timekeeping Mode, hold down [2] for about six seconds until the [1] Second Hand completes one full revolution.
- Though the [1] Second Hand will stop momentarily about three seconds after you hold down [2], do not release the button yet. Wait until the [1] Second Hand completes a full revolution before you release [2].
- To interrupt an ongoing correction operation and return to the Timekeeping Mode, press [2] again.
- If you release [2] when the [1] Second Hand stops the first time (after about three seconds) in the above operation, the watch will enter the home position adjustment mode. Switch is displayed when "Adjusting Home Positions Manually". If this happens, press [2] to return to the Timekeeping Mode and then perform the above operation again.

Manually triggered auto-correction of hand home positions performs the following two steps:

1. The hands will move automatically in order to determine the home positions of the watch.
2. After the hand home positions are determined, the watch will return to normal timekeeping automatically. This completes the correction operation.

Adjusting Home Positions Manually

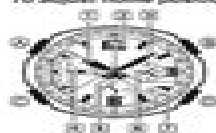

Strong magnetism or impact can cause the hands and/or date of the watch to be off, even if the watch is able to perform the signal reception operation. If this happens, perform the applicable home position adjustment procedures in this section.

- Hand home position adjustment is not required if the time and day settings are correct.
- You also can use auto-correction of the hand home positions to correct the home positions of the [1] Hour Hand, [2] Minute Hand, and [3] Second Hand.

Note

Any time after you enter the home position adjustment mode in step 1 of the following procedure, you can return to the Timekeeping Mode by pressing [2]. The watch also will return to the Timekeeping Mode automatically if you do not leave the operation for about two or three minutes in the home position adjustment mode. In either case, any adjustments you made before the watch returned to the Timekeeping Mode will be applied.

To adjust home positions

1. Hold down [2] at least two seconds until the [1] Second Hand stops and then starts moving again.
2. Hold down [2] for about three seconds.
 - The [1] Second Hand will start to move when you first press [2]. Keep [2] depressed until the [1] Second Hand stops.
 - The watch is now in the home position adjustment mode.
 - The watch will exit the home adjustment mode automatically if you do not perform any operation for about two or three minutes.
 - First is [1] Second Hand home position adjustment.

- If the [1] Second Hand moves to 12 o'clock, it is in the correct home position. If it doesn't, use [2] to move it to 12 o'clock.
- Each press of [2] in this home position adjustment mode will cycle through the adjusted settings as shown below.

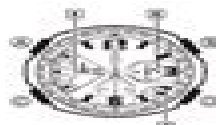

- When adjusting a hand or the date home position, it is recommended that after you move to a proper home position, you press [2] to move the setting back one step. Next, press [2] again to return it to the home position. This helps to ensure better home position adjustment accuracy.

3. After confirming that the [1] Second Hand is at the proper home position, press [2]. This will switch to [2] Day.
 - The [1] Hour Hand and [2] Minute Hand home position adjustment.
 - The [1] Hour Hand and [2] Minute Hand are at their proper home positions if they both move to 12 o'clock. Then [3] 24 Hour Hand also will move along with [1] Hour Hand movement, and cannot be adjusted individually. If the hands are not positioned correctly, use [2] 1-3 and [2] 4-3 to move them to their proper home positions.
4. After confirming that the [1] Hour Hand and [2] Minute Hand are in their correct home positions, press [2]. This will switch to [3] Right Dial Hand home position adjustment.

- The [3] Right Dial Hand are at their proper home positions if they both move to 24. If the hands are not positioned correctly, use [2] 1-3 and [2] 4-3 to move them to 24.

5. After confirming that the [3] Right Dial Hand are in the correct home position, press [2]. This will advance to [4] Left Dial Hand home position adjustment.
 - The [4] Left Dial Hand is in the correct home position if it is pointing at 12 o'clock. If it isn't, use [2] 1-3 and [2] 4-3 to move it to 12 o'clock.
6. After confirming that the [4] Left Dial Hand is in the correct home position, press [2]. This will advance to day home position adjustment.
 - The [5] Day is in the correct home position if it shows 1. If it doesn't, use [2] 1-3 and [2] 4-3 to change the day to 1.

7. Press [2] to return to the Timekeeping Mode.
 - The [1] Day moves to the current day, and then the [1] Hour Hand and the [2] Minute Hand will move to the current time. Wait until everything stops moving.

Troubleshooting

Hand Movement and Position

- I lost track of what mode the watch is in. Refer to "To select a mode". To return directly to the Timekeeping Mode from any other mode, hold down [2] at least two seconds.
- The [1] Second Hand is moving at two-second intervals.
 - As the watch's hands are stopped at 12 o'clock and none of the buttons work, power may be low. Expose the watch to light until the [1] Second Hand starts moving normally, at one-second intervals.
- The hands of the watch suddenly start moving at high speed, even when I do not perform any operation. This could be due to any one of the following causes. In all cases, the hand movement does not indicate actual time, and should stop shortly.
 - The watch is recovering from a sleep mode.
 - The time setting is being adjusted following a successful auto time calibration signal receive operation.
 - The watch is returning to the Timekeeping Mode automatically from the Alarm Mode.
- Hands suddenly stop moving. Button operation also is disabled. This watch may be in the power recovery mode. Do not perform any operation until the hands return to their normal positions (in about 15 minutes). The hands should return to their correct positions when power recovers. To help power recover, leave the watch in a location where it is exposed to light.
- The current time setting is off by hours. Your Home City setting may be wrong. Check your Home City setting and correct it, if necessary.
- The current time setting is off by one hour. If you are using the watch in an area where time calibration signal reception is possible, see "To configure Home City settings". If you are using the watch in an area where time calibration signal reception is not possible, you may need to change your Home City's STD (standard time) DST (daylight saving/summer time) setting manually. Use the procedure under "To toggle the Home City time between standard time and daylight saving time" to change the STD/DST setting.
- The hands and/or day indications are off. This could indicate that the watch has been exposed to magnetism or strong impact, which has caused problems with proper hand and day alignment. Adjust the watch's hand and day home position alignment.

World Time Mode

- The World Time indicated by the [6] Right Dial Hand in the World Time Mode is one hour off from the actual time in the selected World Time City. The STD (standard time) DST (daylight saving/summer time) setting of the selected World Time City may be wrong. Select the correct STD (standard time) DST (daylight saving/summer time) setting.
- The World Time indicated by the [6] Right Dial Hand in the World Time Mode is off. Your Home City settings may be wrong. Check your Home City settings and correct them, if necessary.

Charging

- The watch does not resume operation after I expose it to light. This can happen after the power level drops to Level 3. Continue exposing the watch to light until the [1] Second Hand starts moving normally (at one-second intervals).
- The [1] Second Hand starts to move at one-second intervals, but then suddenly returns to moving at two-second intervals. The watch probably is not sufficiently charged yet. Continue keeping it exposed to light.

Time Calibration Signal

The information in this section applies only when LON, PAR, ATH, RWL, ANC, LAX, DEN, CHI, NYC, HGO, or TTD is selected as the Home City. You need to adjust the current time manually when any other city is selected as the Home City.

- The [1] Second Hand indicates NO (N) when I check the result of the Select mode operation.

Possible Cause	Remedy
• You are wearing or moving the watch, or performing a button operation during the signal receive operation. • The watch is in an area with poor reception conditions.	• Keep the watch in an area where reception conditions are good while the signal receive operation is being performed.
You are in an area where signal reception is not possible for some reason. The calibration signal is not being transmitted for some reason.	See "Approximate Reception Ranges". • Check the website of the organization that maintains the time calibration signal in your area for information about its down times. • Try again later.

- The current time setting changes after I set it manually.

You may have the watch configured for Auto Receive of the time calibration signal, which will cause the time to be adjusted automatically according to your current selected Home City. If this results in the wrong time setting, check your Home City setting and correct it, if necessary.
