

CHILD DEVELOPMENT CASE STUDIES

Ashley Rowan
2016

Introduction

The case studies presented in this report are discussed in relation to development across the physical, cognitive and social-emotional domains. The strengths, needs and challenges of each child are examined, in order to identify for parents and carers the ways this information may be used to assist parents and carers in supporting the children to reach their full potential. The case studies are discussed with reference to development theories in relation to teaching and learning, and the learning environment.

Case Study 1: Johnnie

Johnnie is 23 months old, he speaks around ten words clearly and is just beginning to walk.

Cognitive Development

Johnnie is at the end of the infancy, the phase beginning at birth and ending around the second birthday. He may be said to be on the cusp between sensorimotor and pre-operational stages of Piaget's theory of cognitive development, a time when language begins to be used in a meaningful way (Peterson, 2004, p. 107).

From this constructivist viewpoint, mental development in infants may be conceptualised as a process of assimilation, or constructing mental schemata by modifying existing ideas to make them consistent with new information through accommodation. Within this theory, Johnnie falls into Piaget's sixth sub-stage in the growth of sensorimotor intelligence. Occurring between 18 to 24 months, this sub-stage is categorised by increased sophistication of motor action and perception, and the beginnings of symbolic representation.

Case Studies in Educational Psychology Patricia P. Willems, Alyssa R. Gonzalez-DeHass, 2017-12-06 This case study book serves as a valuable tool for professors and instructors of educational psychology It contains 18 cases that represent current areas of interest in Educational Psychology embedded within current challenges that teachers face in today's elementary grade classrooms The cases are organized into six major parts Human Development Individual Differences and Diversity Learning Theories Motivation Classroom Management Instructional Approaches and Assessment and Evaluation Each case describes a detailed teaching scenario written from either the student or the teachers perspective To engage students in critical thinking perspective taking analysis problem solving and decision making the cases have been intentionally written without a conclusion Because the cases are open ended it allows the professor or instructor more flexibility and autonomy in how they use the cases Each case is followed by thought provoking questions highlighting the significant issues in the case from which to analyze the case and apply various theoretical viewpoints While the cases do not replace actual classroom experience they present a way to immerse students in the classroom's culture by providing them with real life teaching examples
