Climate and Culture Change in North America AD 900-1600 William C. Foster, 2012-05-15 Additional keywords Aboriginal or Native peoples Indians First Nations Climate and Culture Change in North America AD 900-1600 William C. Foster, 2012-05-15 Climate change is today's news but it isn't a new phenomenon Centuries long cycles of heating and cooling are well documented for Europe and the North Atlantic These variations in climate including the Medieval Warm Period MWP AD 900 to 1300 and the early centuries of the Little Ice Age LIA AD 1300 to 1600 had a substantial impact on the cultural history of Europe In this pathfinding volume William C Foster marshals extensive evidence that the heating and cooling of the MWP and LIA also occurred in North America and significantly affected the cultural history of Native peoples of the American Southwest Southern Plains and Southeast Correlating climate change data with studies of archaeological sites across the Southwest Southern Plains and Southeast Foster presents the first comprehensive overview of how Native American societies responded to climate variations over seven centuries He describes how as in Europe the MWP ushered in a cultural renaissance during which population levels surged and Native peoples substantially intensified agriculture constructed monumental architecture and produced sophisticated works of art Foster follows the rise of three dominant cultural centers Chaco Canyon in New Mexico Cahokia on the middle Mississippi River and Casas Grandes in northwestern Chihuahua Mexico that reached population levels comparable to those of London and Paris Then he shows how the LIA reversed the gains of the MWP as population levels and agricultural production sharply declined Chaco Canyon Cahokia and Casas Grandes collapsed and dozens of smaller villages also collapsed or became fortresses The Last 6,000 Years of Climate and Culture Change in North America William C. Foster, 2016-11-12 William C Foster's The Last 6 000 Years of Climate and Culture Change in North America is a prequel to his Climate and Culture Change in North America AD 900 1600 published in 2012 This new effort covers a time period during the Middle and Late Holocene from ca 4000 BC to AD 1800 during which the Earth's temperature oscillated causing major changes in the lifeways of the inhabitants of this planet as it does today Climate Change in Human History Benjamin Lieberman, Elizabeth Gordon, 2021-12-02 Climate Change and Human History provides a concise introduction to the relationship between human beings and climate change throughout history Starting hundreds of thousands of years ago and going up to the present day this book illustrates how natural climate variability affected early human societies and how human activity is now leading to drastic changes to our climate Taking a chronological approach the authors explain how climate change created opportunities and challenges for human societies in each major time period covering themes such as phases of climate and history climate shocks the rise and fall of civilizations industrialization accelerating climate change and our future outlook This 2nd edition includes a new chapter on the explosion of social movements protest groups and key individuals since 2017 and the implications this has had on the history of climate change an improved introduction to the Anthropocene and extra content on the basic dynamics of the climate system alongside updated historiography With more case studies images and individuals throughout the text the second edition also includes a glossary of terms and further reading to aid students in understanding this interdisciplinary subject An ideal companion for all students of environmental history Climate Change and Human History clearly demonstrates the critical role of climate in shaping human history and of the experience of humans in both adapting to and shaping climate change

Climate and American Literature Michael Boyden, 2021-03-04 Climate has infused the literary history of the United States from the writings of explorers and conquerors over early national celebrations of the American climate to the flowering of romantic nature writing This volume traces this complex semantic history in American thought and literature to examine rhetorical and philosophical discourses that continue to propel and constrain American climate perceptions today It explores how American literature from its inception up until the present engages with the climate both real and perceived Climate and American Literature attends to the central place that the climate has historically occupied in virtually all aspects of American life from public health and medicine over the organization of the political system and the public sphere to the culture of sensibility aesthetics and literary culture It details American inflections of climate perceptions over time to offer revealing new perspectives on one of the most pressing issues of our time Feral Animals in the American South Abraham H.

Gibson, 2016-08-30 The relationship between humans and domestic animals has changed in dramatic ways over the ages and those transitions have had profound consequences for all parties involved As societies evolve the selective pressures that shape domestic populations also change Some animals retain close relationships with humans but many do not Those who establish residency in the wild free from direct human control are technically neither domestic nor wild they are feral If we really want to understand humanity's complex relationship with domestic animals then we cannot simply ignore the ones who went feral This is especially true in the American South where social and cultural norms have facilitated and sustained large populations of feral animals for hundreds of years Feral Animals in the American South retells southern history from this new perspective of feral animals Cultural Dynamics of Climate Change and the Environment in Northern America , 2015-07-28

Global warming interacts in multiple ways with ecological and social systems in Northern America While the US and Canada belong to the world's largest per capita emitters of greenhouse gases the Arctic north of the continent as well as the Deep South are already affected by a changing climate In Cultural Dynamics of Climate Change and the Environment in Northern America academics from various fields such as anthropology art history educational studies cultural studies environmental science history political science and sociology explore society nature interactions in culturally as well as ecologically one of the most diverse regions of the world Contributors include Omer Aijazi Roland Benedikter Maxwell T Boykoff Eugene Cordero Martin David Demetrius Eudell Michael K Goodman Frederic Hanusch Naotaka Hayashi Jürgen Heinrichs Grit Martinez Antonia Mehnert Angela G Mertig Michael J Paolisso Eleonora Rohland Karin Schürmann Bernd Sommer Kenneth M Sylvester Anne Marie Todd Richard Tucker and Sam White Faces of Béxar Jesús F. Summerfield G Robert Award sponsored by The Sons of the Republic of Texas Faces of B xar showcases the finest work of Jes s F de la Teja a foremost authority on Spanish colonial Mexico and Texas through the Republic These essays trace the arc of the author s career over a quarter of a century A new bibliographic essay on early San Antonio and Texas history rounds out the collection showing where Tejano history has been is now and where it might go in the future For de la Teja the Tejano experience in San Antonio is a case study of a community in transition one moved by forces within and without From its beginnings as an imperial outpost to becoming the center of another newer empire itself in transition the social political and military history of San Antonio was central to Texas history to say nothing of the larger contexts of Mexican and American history Faces of B xar explores this and more including San Antonio s origins as a military settlement the community s economic ties to Saltillo its role in the fight for Mexican independence and the motivations of Tejanos for joining Anglo Texans in the struggle for independence Taken together Faces of B xar stands to be a milestone in the growing literature on Tejano history

Growing Food in a Hotter, Drier Land Gary Paul Nabhan, 2013-06-14 How to harvest water and nutrients select drought tolerant plants and create natural diversity Because climatic uncertainty has now become the new normal many farmers gardeners and orchard keepers in North America are desperately seeking ways to adapt their food production to become more resilient in the face of such global weirding This book draws upon the wisdom and technical knowledge from desert farming traditions all around the world to offer time tried strategies for Building greater moisture holding capacity and nutrients in soils Protecting fields from damaging winds drought and floods Harvesting water from uplands to use in rain gardens and terraces filled with perennial crops Delecting fruits nuts succulents and herbaceous perennials that are best suited to warmer drier climates Gary Paul Nabhan is one of the world s experts on the agricultural traditions of arid lands For this book he has visited indigenous and traditional farmers in the Gobi Desert the Arabian Peninsula the Sahara Desert and Andalusia as well as the Sonoran Chihuahuan and Painted deserts of North America to learn firsthand their techniques and designs aimed at reducing heat and drought stress on orchards fields and dooryard gardens This practical book also includes colorful parables from the field that exemplify how desert farmers think about increasing the carrying capacity and resilience of the lands and waters they steward It is replete with detailed descriptions and diagrams of how to implement these desert adapted practices in your own backyard orchard or farm This unique book is useful not only for farmers and permaculturists in the arid reaches of the Southwest or other desert regions Its techniques and prophetic vision for achieving food security in the face of climate change may well need to be implemented across most of North America over the next half century and are already applicable in most of the semiarid West Great Plains and the U S Southwest and adjacent regions of Mexico Garden Writers Association Media Award Silver Award for Achievement New Mexico Arizona Book Awards Gardening Category All of Gary Nabhan s books carry us on deep enchanting journeys to the hearts of people plants and cultures across the world I m inspired and heartened by this timely and important offering from a true desert sage Toby Hemenway author of Gaia's Garden: A Guide to Home Scale Permaculture Archaeological Adaptation C. Clifford Boyd, 2024-01-12 Archaeological Adaptation: Case Studies of Cultural Transformation from the Southeast and Caribbean honors the work of longtime University of Tennessee anthropology professor Gerald Schroedl whose career encompassed fieldwork and research in both prehistoric and historic archaeology. Schroedl's early career often focused its analysis on Mississippian and Cherokee sites while his later years found him delving into historic archaeology in the Caribbean. Revisiting these touchstones of Schroedl's work, editor C. Clifford Boyd here gathers essays around the disciplinary theme of documentation and analysis of change. Contributors study excavations in Tennessee, Virginia, South Carolina, wider southern Appalachia, and the Caribbean, providing insight into Native American, African American, and English civilizations. Artifacts, architecture, human and structural remains, and climatic and environmental factors yield insight into changing settlement patterns, tribal practices, material culture, economic and political power relations, and health and nutrition. A preface tracing Schroedl's career and an afterword addressing developments in archaeological theory round out the volume.
