Climate, History and the Modern World, Climate, History, and the Modern World Lamb. H. H., 1982 Unstoppable Global Warming Fred Singer, Dennis Avery, 2006-09-13 Singer and Avery present in popular language supported by in depth scientific evidence the compelling concept that global temperatures have been rising mostly or entirely because of a natural cycle Using historic data from two millennia of recorded history combined with the natural physical records found in ice cores seabed sediment cave stalagmites and tree rings Unstoppable Global Warming argues that the 1 500 year solar driven cycle that has always controlled the earth's climate remains the driving force in the current warming trend Trillions of dollars spent on reducing fossil fuel use would have no effect on today's rising temperatures The public policy key Singer and Avery propose is adaptation not fruitless attempts at prevention Further they offer convincing evidence that civilization's most successful eras have coincided with the cycle's warmest peaks With the added benefit of modern technology humanity can not only survive global climate change but thrive

History at the End of the World? History Climate Change and the Possibility of Closure Mark Levene, Robert Johnson, Penny Roberts, 2010-01-01 This collection of essays proposes that climate change means serious peril Our argument however is not about the science per se It is about us our deep and more recent history and how we arrived at this calamitous impasse With contributions from academic activists and independent researchers History at the End of the World challenges advocates of business as usual to think again But in its wide ranging assessment of how we transcend the current crisis it also proposes that the human past could be our most powerful resource in the struggle for survival Our approaches begin from archaeology literature religion psychology sociology philosophy of science engineering and sustainable development as well as straight history
