Chinese Islam Nasr M. Arif,Shaojin Chai,2024-06-28 This book explores the fascinating and complex histories of Islam and China Meticulously researched and captivating it provides a comprehensive history of the encounters and relationship between these two great civilizations as well as the unique development and indigenization of Islam within China. The work looks at the early interactions between Arab Muslim traders and the Tang dynasty in the seventh century, shedding light on the establishment of the first Muslim communities in China. The narrative then progresses through subsequent dynasties, examining the ebbs and flows of Muslim influence, integration, and indigenization. It looks at the emergence of the Hui and other Muslim ethnic groups who play a central role in the story of Chinese Islam. By delving into their customs, beliefs, and distinctive practices, the authors unveil the intricate process of indigenization where Islam becomes deeply rooted in Chinese culture and society. One of the unique features of this collection is the nuanced analysis of the impact of major political events as well as gradual social changes on the process of adoption and transmission of Islam in China. The authors also highlight the role of economic activities, Chinese Islamic scholars, and key architectural landmarks in this multifaceted history. Part of the Global Islamic Cultures series that looks at integrated and indigenized Islam, this book will be of interest to students and researchers of religion, Islamic studies, religious history, political Islam, cultural studies, Islamic law, and Asian studies. It will also be useful to readers who are interested in world religions, theology, and cultures. Routledge Revivals: Medieval Islamic Civilization (2006)

Writing in the eighteenth century, the Persian language litterateurs of late Mughal Delhi were aware that they could no longer take for granted the relations of Persian with Islamic imperial power relations that had enabled Persian literary life to flourish in India since the tenth century C.E. Persian Authorship and Canonicity in Late Mughal

Delhi situates the diverse textual projects of Abd al Qadir Badi' al Zaman and his students within the context of politically threatened but poetically prestigious Delhi exploring the writers use of the Perso Arabic and Hindavi literary canons to fashion their authorship Breaking with the tendency to categorize and characterize Persian literature according to the dynasty in power this book argues for the indirectness and complexity of the relations between poetics and politics Among its original contributions is an interpretation of Badi' al Zaman's Sufi adaptation of a Braj Avadhi tale of utopian Hindu kingship a novel hypothesis on the historicism of Sir Jafar al-Din al-Khwarizmi's oeuvre and a study of how Bindraban Das Khvushg entwined the contrasting models of authorship in Badi' al Zaman and Khwarizmi to formulate his voice as a Sufi historian of the Persian poetic tradition The first book length work in English on Abd al Qadir Badi' al Zaman and his circle of Persian literati this is a valuable resource for students and scholars of both South Asian and Iranian studies as well as Persian literature and Sufism

Buddhism and Islam Kieko Obuse, 2024-11-04 Buddhist Muslim relations are usually seen as inherently confrontational This book challenges the view of Buddhism and Islam as fundamentally irreconcilable by exploring the diverse ways representatives of the two traditions have engaged each other in Southeast Asia the global frontstage of contemporary Buddhist Muslim relations and Japan a Buddhist majority country whose Islam policy played a significant role in its surge to global power status It investigates the processes through which mutual perceptions and discourses have developed in response to shifting socio political circumstances and via the intellectual interventions of leading personalities

Riddell, 2020-07-31 Sufism has long constituted one of the most powerful drawcards to people embracing Islam This book considers a broad range of questions relating to Sufism including its history manifestations in various countries and communities its expression in poetry women and Sufism and expressions among popular spirituality In addition the volume challenges the long held view of Sufism as being necessarily peaceful through a consideration in one paper of Sufis engaging in violent Jihad The book works at the interface between the scholarly and the practical using rigorous methodology to ensure that its findings are reliable while also giving attention to how Sufi thinking impacts the daily lives of Sufis This represents an original and important dimension of this study given the significant role played by Sufis throughout Islamic history in enriching discussion of intellectual and charismatic questions as well as informing popular practice among Folk Muslims
