Chinas Foreign Investment Diplomacy International:

China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume I John F. Copper, 2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries. This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means. This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Volume I examines the definitions, origins, nature and scope of foreign aid and investment by other countries. Using that background, John F. Copper then traces China's financial assistance to developing countries from the Mao period when China gave meaningful foreign aid despite its own economic struggles through the beginning of China's post 1978 economic boom and during subsequent decades of rapid economic growth. Copper shows that China has a more salient history in giving foreign assistance than any other country in the world while China's objectives in giving foreign assistance have changed markedly over time. China has always been driven by efforts to realize its foreign policy objectives and expand China's external influence.

China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume III John F. Copper, 2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries. This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means. This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Volume III offers an analysis of China's foreign aid and investment to countries outside of Asia in Africa, Europe, the Middle East, Latin America and Oceania. Africa was and is the most important of these regions and it is given special treatment. In the concluding chapter, Copper reviews the findings of previous volumes, delineates China's most important victories and setbacks and notes opposition to and criticism of China's aid and investment diplomacy. Copper gives evidence that will be shocking to some of the reality that China's financial help to developing countries is one of the most salient trends in international politics and constitutes a formidable challenge to the United States, Japan and Europe as well as international financial institutions.

Also important to China and driving its aid and investment was China's pursuit of Communist Bloc solidarity, a search for secure borders and competition with India for influence in the Third World. Securing its imports of energy and raw materials and markets for its products came later. Marginalizing Taiwan and defeating it diplomatically constituted another goal of China's foreign aid and foreign investment analyzed here.

China's New Diplomacy Zhiqun Zhu, 2016-12-05 In the first edition 2010 Zhiqun Zhu examined the rationale and strategies of China's new multi-directional diplomacy since the early 1990s and assessed its impact on international political economy as well as responses from the international community. This fully revised second edition is still based on extensive research addressing these and other important policy issues whilst incorporating the latest major Chinese diplomatic activities since the last edition was published. This book continues to cover Chinese initiatives in the Middle East, Latin America and the Caribbean, Africa, Central Asia, Southeast Asia and the South Pacific and studies China's current efforts to secure energy and other resources to expand trade and investment and to enhance soft power around the world. The author further evaluates how China's activities affect these regions' political economy and how the international community, especially the United States, has reacted to China's new diplomacy. Whilst continuing to answer some lingering questions about Chinese foreign policy and its implications for both China and the international community as they become increasingly interdependent, this paperback edition is adapted for classroom use and provides questions for discussion to help readers review the key empirical and theoretical points of each chapter.

China's Foreign Investment Law in the New Normal Shen Wei, 2022-12-29 This book analyzes China's new foreign investment law which came into force in January 2020. The new law implemented sweeping changes and overhauled China's foreign investment law regime of the last four decades. The foreign investment law aims to make the business environment more investor-friendly and address some of the contentious issues between the US and China in the ongoing trade war. The book explains how the law enhances regulatory transparency. It also outlines the new approval process that is the pre-establishment negative list system which has replaced the former approval system for foreign investment projects. The book also analyzes China's series of anti-sanction laws. This book will help give readers a better understanding of major changes and benefits under the new law and will be the first of its kind looking at the implications of this important law China's International Investment Strategy Julien

Chaisse, 2019-02-07 Since China adopted its open door policy in 1978 which altered its development strategy from self sufficiency to active participation in the world market its goal has remained unchanged to assist the readjustment of China's economy to coordinate its modernization programs and to improve its quality of life With the 1997 launch of the Going Global policy an outward focus regarding foreign investment was added to circumvent trade barriers and improve the competitiveness of Chinese firms In order to accommodate inward and outward investment China's participation in the international investment regime has underpinned its efforts to join multilateral investment related legal instruments and conclude international investment agreements This collection compiled by award winning scholar Professor Julien Chaisse explores the three distinct tracks of China's investment policy and strategy bilateral agreements including those with the US and the EU regional agreements including the Free Trade Area of the Asia Pacific and global initiatives spear headed by China's presidency of the G20 and its Belt and Road initiative The book's overarching topic is whether these three tracks compete with each other or whether they complement one another a question of profound importance for the country's political and economic future and world investment governance China's Foreign Investment Legal Regime Yawen

Zheng, 2023-01-09 China's foreign investment legal regime encompasses domestic laws governing inward and outward investments investment treaties and the Belt and Road Initiative Can China's foreign investment legal regime lead its two way investments towards the country's five development goals building technological capacity deepening integration into the global economy promoting green development protecting security and participating in global economic governance and rule making Yawen Zheng pioneers a systematic study of China's foreign investment legal regime finding that the regime has gradually made progress towards the development goals but the effort is diluted by obstacles such as outdated treaties conflicts with the West and domestic political challenges
