Freeman, Magdalena Martinez, 2015-12-04 Latino as are the fastest growing demographic in the United States Despite recent gains in postsecondary enrollment the Latino a population is severely underrepresented when it comes to baccalaureate attainment Hispanic serving institutions HSIs will play a critical role in turning the tide but there is little existing research about these institutions This volume synthesizes Existing research on HSIs emerging HSIs as well as research about Latino a students themselves A wide range of best practices across institutional types and Examples of service to undocumented students in states where they do and do not qualify for in state tuition benefits Topics include Latino a undergraduate student success graduate student success community colleges four year institutions financial aid and undocumented students This is the 172nd volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Higher Education Addressed to presidents vice presidents deans and other higher education decision makers on all kinds of campuses it provides timely information and authoritative advice about major issues and administrative problems confronting every institution

The Influence of Institutional Practices and Resources on Latino Baccalaureate Completion Rates Michele Soliz Martinez, 2012 Today Latinos are enrolling in higher education at higher rates than ever before Access to higher education for Latinos is no longer the greatest issue facing this population Instead degree completion is of increasing concern not to only Latinos but also to higher education researchers and administrators The purpose of this study was to examine the influence if any of institutional resources and practices at four year baccalaureate degree granting institutions on baccalaureate completion rates for Latino students In addition the study examined what influence if any Latino student involvement with constituents faculty staff alumni and community members had on the institution s baccalaureate completion rates for Latino students A national survey of chief student affairs officers at four year baccalaureate degree granting institutions was conducted about the institutional resources and practices for Latino undergraduate students This study applied Astin s Student Involvement theory to understand how to improve the college environment for Latino students In addition Astin s I E O model served as the conceptual framework for the study The findings of this study revealed six significant positive indicators of baccalaureate completion for Latino undergraduate students at four year baccalaureate degree granting institutions This doctoral dissertation offers educators and administrators information on resources and practices to improve Latino baccalaureate completion rates

Overcoming Educational Racism in the Community College Angela Long, 2023-07-03 Overall nearly half of all incoming community college students drop out within twelve months of enrolling with students of color and the economically disadvantaged faring far worse Given the high proportion of underserved students these colleges enroll the detrimental impact on their communities and for the national economy as a whole at a time of diversifying demographics is enormous This book addresses this urgent issue by bringing together nationally recognized researchers whose work throws light on the structural and systemic causes of student attrition as well as college presidents and leaders who have successfully implemented strategies to improve student outcomes The book is divided into five sections each devoted to a demographic group African Americans Native Americans American Indians Latino Americans Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders and Caucasian students in poverty Each section in turn comprises three chapters the first providing an up to date summary of research findings about barriers and attainments pertaining to the corresponding population the second the views of a community college president and the final chapter offering a range of models and best practices for achieving student success The analyses descriptions of cutting edge programs and recommendations for action will commend this volume to everyone concerned about equity and completion rates in the community college sector from presidents and senior administrators through faculty and student affairs leaders For educational researchers it fills blanks on data about attrition and persistence patterns of minority students attending community colleges Contributors Kenneth Atwater Glenn Da M Bivens Edward Bush Cara Crowley Maria Harper Marinick Joan B Holmes G Edward Hughes Lee Lambert Cynthia Lindquist Ta Sunka Wicahpi Win Star Horse Woman Angela Long Russell Lowery Hart Jamillah Moore Christopher M Mullin Brian Murphy Eduardo J Padr n Deborah A Santiago Wei Song Robert Teranishi Rowena M Tomaneng James Utterback J Luke Wood

Higher Education Access and Choice for Latino Students Patricia Perez, Miguel Ceja, 2015-04-10 Now the largest and fastest growing ethnic population in the U S Latino students face many challenges and complexities when it comes to college choice and access This edited volume provides much needed theoretical and empirical data on how the schooling experiences of Latino students shape their educational aspirations and access to higher education It explores how the individual and collective influence of the home school and policy shape the college decision making process This unique collection of original scholarly articles offers critical insight on educational pathways that will help families educators and policy makers intervene in ways that foster and sustain college access and participation for Latino students It considers destination preferences and enrollment selections elementary and secondary school experiences and intervention programs that shed light on how practitioners can promote participation and retention This multi conceptual multi methodological volume offers directions for future research programming and policy in Latino education

Ensuring the Success of Latino Males in Higher Education Victor B. Sáenz, Luis Ponjuán, Julie L. Figueroa, 2023-07-03 Latino males are effectively vanishing from the American higher education pipeline Even as the number of Latinas/os attending college has actually increased steadily over the last few decades the proportional representation of Latino males continues to slide relative to their Latina female counterparts The question of why Latino males are losing ground in accessing higher education relative to their peers is an important and complex one and it lies at the heart of this book There are several broad themes highlighted catalogued along with the four dimensions of policy theory research and practice The contributors to this book present new research on factors that inhibit or promote Latino success in both four year institutions and community colleges in order to inform both policy and practice They explore the social cultural factors peer dynamics and labor force demands that may be perpetuating the growing gender gap and consider what lessons can be learned from research on the success of Latinas This book also closely examines key practices that enable first generation Latino male undergraduates to succeed which may seem counterintuitive to institutional expectations and preconceived notions of student behavior Using narrative data the book also explores the role of family in persistence outlines how Latino men conceptualize fulfilling expectations negotiate the emasculation of the educational process and how they confront racialization in the pursuit of a higher education uncovers attitudes to help seeking that are detrimental to their success and analyzes how those who succeed and progress in college apply their social capital whether aspirational navigational social linguistic familial or resistant While uncovering the lack of awareness at all levels of our colleges and universities about the depth and severity of the challenges facing Latino males this book provides the foundation for rethinking policy challenges leaders to institutionalize male focused programs and services and presents data to inform needed changes in practice for outreach and retention

Becoming Hispanic-Serving Institutions Gina Ann Garcia, 2019-03-12 How can striving Hispanic Serving Institutions serve their students while countering the dominant preconceptions of colleges and universities Winner of the AAHHE Book of the Year Award by the American Association of Hispanics in Higher Education Hispanic Serving Institutions HSIs not for profit degree granting colleges and universities that enroll at least 25% or more Latinx students are among the fastest growing higher education segments in the United States As of fall 2016 they represented 15% of all postsecondary institutions in the United States and enrolled 65% of all Latinx college students As they increase in number these questions bear consideration What does it mean to serve Latinx students What special needs does this student demographic have And what opportunities and challenges develop when a college or university becomes an HSI In Becoming Hispanic Serving Institutions Gina Ann Garcia explores how institutions are serving Latinx students both through traditional and innovative approaches Drawing on empirical data collected over two years at three HSIs Garcia adopts a counternarrative approach to highlight the ways that HSIs are reframing what it means to serve Latinx college students She questions the extent to which they have been successful in doing this while exploring how those institutions grapple with the tensions that emerge from confronting traditional standards and measures of success for postsecondary institutions Laying out what it means for these three extremely different HSIs Garcia also highlights the differences in the way each approaches its role in serving Latinxs Incorporating the voices of faculty staff and students Becoming Hispanic Serving Institutions asserts that HSIs are undervalued yet reveals that they serve an important role in the larger landscape of postsecondary institutions

Crossing Digital Fronteras Isabel Martinez, Irma Victoria Montelongo, Nicholas Daniel Natividad, Ángel David Nieves, 2024-06-01 Crossing Digital Fronteras is about liberatory possibilities and digital technologies in the classroom The book centers critical Latinx Digital Humanities to illustrate the ways college faculty and Latinx students harness digital tools to engage in messy yet essential active learning and knowledge production in Hispanic Serving Institutions HSIs and Latinx Studies courses With increasing Latinx student enrollment and a growing need for the humanities in our complex world it is essential that HSIs and instructors integrate twenty first century tools into their teaching practices to truly serve Latinx students and communities This book definitively inserts Latinx Digital Humanities into broader conversations about best practices at HSIs on the one hand and digital humanities and social justice on the other Most importantly it provides practical examples of innovative rehumanizing digital pedagogies that give students the liberatory learning they deserve

Understanding Minority-Serving Institutions Marybeth Gasman, Benjamin Baez, Caroline Sotello Viernes Turner, 2008-03-13 Understanding Minority Serving Institutions explores these important institutions while also highlighting their interconnectedness with the hope of sparking collaboration among the various types Minority serving institutions MSIs enroll and graduate the majority of students of color in the United States and traditionally include historically Black colleges and universities Hispanic serving institutions tribal colleges and more recently Asian American and Pacific Islander serving institutions The book's contributors focus on several issues including institutional mission faculty governance student engagement social justice federal policy and accreditation They critically analyze the scholarship on MSIs not only describing the existing research and stressing what is missing but also providing new lines of thought for additional research

To My Professor: Student Voices for Great College Teaching Michigan State University School of Journalism, 2016-08-23 To My Professor Student Voices for Great College Teaching begins with remarks by students about their professors They tend not to be the kind of remarks that professors usually hear and some are harsh Others are full of gratitude for teachers who inspire and motivate The To My Professor statements are really just starting points that lead to advice from master teachers Teaching college is difficult and this book has some potential solutions More than 50 chapters cover situations including expectations communication technology race gender and religion mental and physical health

Hispanic-Serving Institutions in American Higher Education Jesse Perez Mendez, Fred A. Bonner II, Josephine Méndez-Negrete, Robert T. Palmer, 2023-07-03 This is the first book to exclusively address Hispanic Serving Institutions HSIs filling a major gap in both the research on these institutions and in our understanding of their approaches to learning and their role in supporting all students while focusing on Hispanic students Born out of the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act of 1992 and are classified as such if their enrollment of Latino students account for a quarter of their undergraduate enrollment the number of HSIs and their impact in higher education is growing Today there are approximately 370 HSIs 277 emerging HSIs and their numbers are steadily increasing Given the projected growth of the Latino population and HSIs record of advancing the success for Hispanic students in STEM fields as well as of graduating nearly a third of all Hispanic bachelor's degree recipients their work has important implications for higher education at large Written by leading and rising scholars on HSIs this book offers insight into the complexity of these institutions It not only addresses historic policy origins but also describes the experiences of various student populations served faculty issues i e governance diversity work life experience etc the impact of student affairs in advancing student development and considers funding and philanthropy efforts The book also critically examines challenges that many of these institutions face disjointed mission statements regarding support of their Latino a student populations governance structures that support the status quo and the financial incentive to achieve HSI designation that may not correlate with enhancing the climate for Latinos This book touches on the many facets of HSIs painting an organic mosaic of institutions in position to advance Latino postsecondary progress both chronicling the contemporary challenges that these institutions face while also looking to their future
