Through a Speculum that Shines Elliot R. Wolfson, 1994 Judaic scholar Elliot Wolfson's triple award winning study examines Jewish mystical texts from late antiquity pre kabbalistic sources from the 10th to the 12th centuries and 12th and 13th century kabbalistic literature describing Jewish mysticism and the overwhelmingly visual nature of religious experience in Jewish spirituality from antiquity through the late Middle Ages Sensing the Past Mark Michael Smith, 2007 Smith's history of the sensate is destined to precipitate a revolution in our understanding of the sensibilities that underpinned the mentalities of past epochs David Howes author of Sensual Relations Engaging the Senses in Culture and Social Theory Mark M Smith presents a far ranging essay on the history of the senses that serves simultaneously as a good introduction to the historiography If one feels in danger of sensory overload from this growing body of scholarship Smith's piece is a useful preventive Leigh E Schmidt author of Restless Souls The Making of American Spirituality This is a masterful overview The history of the senses has been a frontier field for a while now Mark Smith draws together what we know with an impressive sensory range and encourages further work A really exciting survey Peter N Stearns author of American Fear The Causes and Consequences of High Anxiety Who would ever have guessed that a book on the history of the senses seeing hearing touching tasting and smelling could be informative thought provoking and at the same time most entertaining Ranging in both time and locale Mark Smith's Sensing the Past makes even the philosophy about the senses from ancient times to now both learned and exciting This work will draw scholars into under recognized subjects and lay readers into a world we simply but unwisely take for granted Bertram Wyatt Brown author of Southern Honor Ethics and Behavior in the Old South Mark M Smith has a good record of communicating his research to a broad constituency within and beyond the academy This will be required reading for anyone addressing sensory history Penelope Gouk author of Music Science and Natural Magic in Seventeenth Century England This is a fine cultural history of the body which takes Western and Eastern traditions and their texts quite seriously Smith views a history of the senses not only from below but places it squarely in the historical imagination It will be of interest to a wide range of readers Sander L Gilman author of Difference and Pathology The Other in Jewish Thought and History Laurence J. Silberstein, Robert L. Circle in the Square Elliot R. Wolfson, 2012-02-01 This book deals with aspects of the gender imaging of God in a variety of medieval kabbalistic sources It provides the key to understanding the phenomenological structures of mystical experience as well as the thematic correlation of esotericism and eroticism that is central to the kabbalah The author examines the role of gender utilizing current feminist studies and cultural anthropology He explores the themes of the feminization of the Torah the correlation of circumcision and vision of God the phallocentric understanding of divine creation as a process of inscription mythologized as an act of sexual self gratification and the phenomenon of gender crossing in kabbalistic myth and ritual Collectively the studies explore in great depth the androcentric phallocentrism that is characteristic of medieval Jewish mysticism
