Digestive System Lab

Questions to Answer:

- How long is your gastrointestinal tract in total? How long is each organ individually?
- How does each organ move food?

Part 1: How long is your gastrointestinal tract? From the moment you eat your meal to the moment the moment you eliminate the waste left over from that meal, your food goes on an equally long journey. The gastrointestinal tract is one long tube of many organs starting at your mouth and ending at your anus, which your food passes through. Some of these organs do chemical digestion (break down food with enzymes and acids) some do mechanical digestion (break down food by force) and some complete absorption (remove essential nutrients from food). Just how long is the GI tract? In this portion of the lab, you are going to create a yardstick of your own gastrointestinal tract. You will measure and cut yarn to be the approximate length of each GI tract organ and then tie those pieces of yarn together to form one long "trunk." Let's see how long that is!

Organ	Length of each organ (inches)	Time in each organ
Mouth
Pharynx & Esophagus
Stomach	12 inches
Small Intestine
Large Intestine
Rectum	10 in	10 in
Anal

- The pharynx is the first part of the gastrointestinal tract. You have seen this of fourty approximately 10 seconds.
 - To measure your mouth, hold a piece of red yarn at the back of your lips and stretch it along your throat to your larynx. Cut the piece of yarn with ONE EXTRA PUNCH, using a ruler or yard stick, measure the length of the yarn and estimate one inch. Measure the length of your mouth in inches on the meter stick above.
 - Using measuring tape, put a piece of the red yarn at your throat and your mouth.
- Next, hold about your stomach just a little ways from your stomach. The pharynx splits into two: down the esophagus is the trachea. The trachea leads to the lungs and is not part of the gastrointestinal tract. The esophagus is a muscular tube which pushes food to the stomach. It takes four to six seconds to push food down your esophagus.

Stomach: Once all the food material has been pushed into the stomach bag, you will see 20 oz. of water, one quart of lemon juice or vinegar, and 2 drops of yellow food coloring in your stomach bag. The water, juice, and food coloring represent a food that your stomach produces known as gastric fluid. Gastric fluid is responsible for chemical or mechanical digestion. The stomach is also made of smooth muscles and contracts every 15 to 20 seconds.

Part 2: In the part of the lab, you will measure the effects of food through a series of steps to demonstrate the way the body works. First is a small group (1/2 cup of juice), a second empty plastic bag, a third (1/2 cup of juice), a fourth (1/2 cup of juice or vinegar). Place these into a baggie. Label the plastic bag with several "heads." The first digestion.
