Common Grounds Michael Buhrs:

Common grounds Museum Villa Stuck, 2015 The rising cities of the Gulf region and arenas of conflict in the Middle East are captivating subjects of media coverage Both in terms of their content and through their manipulative aesthetic the often extreme images from these areas shape our western view of the region Twelve artists counter this flood of images with more diverse artistic practices that reflect on social conditions Some of these artists Ahmed Mater Hazem Harb and Nasser Al Salem are for the first time introduced to the German and Munich public The exhibition title refers to the concept of grounding in communication theory which posits that communication partners share common knowledge which allows for dialog to be successful The artists cross media works put this knowledge to the test Ultra modern urban construction and mass demonstrations are subjects that point to global aspiration and tradition There is a notable broadening of artistic image making to reflect on overriding themes such as space itself and the characteristics and possibilities of public space Conceptual works go beyond a documentary approach and reveal social structures oscillating between West and East sensing a cultural continuity under the surface of new urban phenomena such as Dubai or Abu Dhabi The change in this region can also be seen as a global realignment The collecting and archiving of objects which gain in value due to personal selection and presentation makes for a subjectively structured and at times also biographical narrative style thereby reflecting and condensing collective historiography The artists included in the exhibition conceive of themselves as scholarly and searching in their works they collect archive and research imagery that as material appropriated from others reveals stories which lie underneath the surface of known historiography They have adopted a view from the outside which allows them to subject their own experiences to scrutiny and to process such analytical reflections in artistic terms Museum website that can be seen as a crystallization point for current political shifts This is followed by an in depth reading of Chinese art policy which oscillates between particularist and universalist claims in order to arrive at the concluding section which opens up a horizon of thought and experimentation that helps us to come to terms with the era of multipolarity Beyond Modernity Mohammed Moussa,Emi Goto,2023-10-30 A contest is afoot in Muslim discourses around the world in the twenty first century Prevalent norms and acts are subject to competing motivations trends and forces The image of a monolithic Islam is thus wholly inadequate to identify and interpret the different expressions of Muslim thought and practice in their specific yet connected contexts This book proposes competing and persuasive perspectives for interpreting what Muslims say do and think in collective settings or in the light of common frames of reference The chapters contained in this book reflect a diversity of disciplines and interests Nonetheless a common thread of the preoccupation with meanings in context unites the contributors and the approaches to their chosen examples Islam is not a discrete category that is taken for granted Instead the cacophony of voices in the Muslim world situated in specific contexts variously national regional or global is allowed to inform each chapter Here one encounters contemporary Muslims participating in discourses with a contested character that create opportunities to augment or question orthodox dictates or transmit or alter existing beliefs and practices What emerges are nuanced portraits of contemporary Muslim thought and practice that reveal a far from monolithic Islam to which all things Islamic can be reduced Michael Shaver, Silversmith Lillian Stuart Butt,1974 Report on the Geology of South Carolina Michael Tuomey,1848 The Battle Over Homework Harris Cooper,2001-05-10 This book is about homework and the role it plays in the lives of students teachers and families The author discusses the history of homework the positive and negative aspects of homework in the course of a student s education and the various kinds of homework best used to motivate and positively influence the student The reader learns what amount of homework is best for each age group The book provides readers with the terms definitions and research evidence needed to hold conversations about homework in a constructive manner Furthermore readers will gain the necessary insight into homework to set effective homework policies rules and guidelines This is a user friendly yet research based book that looks at all sides of the debate over homework while giving the reader specific tools to help them achieve what is best for their schools classrooms and children Alumni Bulletin Union Theological Seminary (New York, N.Y.),1929
