Urban Emergency (Mis)Management and the Crisis of Neoliberalism, 2021-08-24 This volume places the Flint Michigan water contamination disaster in the context of a broader crisis of neoliberal governance in the United States Authors from a range of disciplines including sociology criminal justice anthropology history communications and jurisprudence examine the failures in Flint but with an emphasis upon comparison calling attention to similar trajectories for cities like Detroit and Pontiac in Michigan and Stockton in California While the studies collected here emphasize policy failures class conflict and racial oppression they also attend to the resistance undertaken by Flint residents Michiganders and U S activists as they fought for environmental and social justice Contributors include Terressa A Benz Jon Carroll Graham Cassano Daniel J Clark Katrinell M Davis Michael Doan David Fasenfest A E Garrison Peter J Hammer Ami Harbin Shea Howell Jacob Lederman Raoul S Lievanos Benjamin J Pauli and Julie Sze

Neoliberalism and the Voluntary and Community Sector in Northern Ireland Ciaran Hughes, Markus Ketola, 2021-09-29 This book charts the changing relationships between government voluntary and community organisations in Northern Ireland since the Good Friday Agreement It considers the role these actors have played in rolling out and normalising neoliberal discourses and policies With lessons about the impact of neoliberal policies on governance relationships and the peace process this study explores how a core part of civil society has been shaped by both local policy priorities and broader political and economic processes

The Socio-spatial Design of Community and Governance Sam Jacoby, Jingru (Cyan) Cheng, 2021-01-18 This book proposes a new interdisciplinary understanding of urban design in China based on a study of the transformative effects of socio spatial design and planning on communities and their governance This is framed by an examination of the social projects spaces and realities that have shaped three contexts critical to the understanding of urban design problems in China the histories of collective forms and collective spaces such as that of the urban danwei work unit which inform current community building and planning socio spatial changes in urban and rural development and disparate practices of spatialised governmentality These contexts and an attendant transformation from planning to design and from government to governance define the current urban design challenges found in the dominant urban xiaoqu small district and shequ community development model Examining the histories transformations and practices that have shaped socio spatial epistemologies and experiences in China including a specific sense of community and place that is rather based on a concrete collective than abstract public space and underpinned by socialised governance this book brings together a diverse range of observations thoughts analyses and projects by urban researchers and practitioners Thereby discussing emerging interdisciplinary urban design practices in China this book offers a valuable resource for all academics practitioners and stakeholders with an interest in socio spatial design and development Governing How We Care Susan J.

Shaw,2012-03-02 As local governments and organizations assume more responsibility for ensuring the public health identity politics play an increasing yet largely unexamined role in public and policy attitudes toward local problems In Governing How We Care medical anthropologist Susan Shaw examines the relationship between government and citizens using case studies of needle exchange and Welfare to Work programs to illustrate the meanings of cultural difference ethnicity and inequality in health care Drawing on ethnographic research conducted over six years in a small New England city Shaw presents critical perspectives on public health intervention efforts She looks at online developments in health care and makes important correlations between poverty and health care in the urban United States Shaw also highlights the new concepts of community and forms of identity that emerge in our efforts to provide effective health care Governing How We Care shows how government sponsored community health and health care programs operate in an age of neoliberalism Neoliberal Governance and Health Jessica Polzer,Elaine Power,2016-09-01 A critical dissection of the politics of health in neoliberal society Community Katharine Kelly,Tullio Caputo,2011-01-01 Using real life case studies that include affordable housing and environmental and crime prevention initiatives Community is the perfect primer for understanding the theoretical and practical elements of contemporary community policies and practices Handbook on Participatory Action Research and Community Development Stoecker , Randy,Falcón, Adrienne,2022-04-08 This Handbook is a critical resource for carefully considering the possibilities and challenges of strategically integrating participatory action research PAR and community development CD Utilizing practical examples from diverse contexts across five continents it looks at how communities are empowering themselves and bringing about systemic change Ageing, Austerity, and Neoliberalism Amy

Jones,2023-12-22 This book explores how neoliberalism and austerity have affected older people living within a deindustrialised town utilising a Foucauldian approach and an ethnographic methodology It seeks to bridge the gap between high sociological theory and a research focus upon older people The link between the micro real people within a real place and macro abstract processes is examined and a mid range theory of change is innovatively developed to highlight how older people are having to negotiate national transformations at the everyday level Key themes within this book include the recreation of human subjectivity antiwelfarism the stigmatisation and exclusion of the poor the fragmentation of the working class and nostalgia Innovative terms such as stigma adaptation and abnormal abnormality are included to help deepen our knowledge and understanding of the social sciences to highlight the injustices caused by current global processes and to ultimately inform change This book will be of interest to scholars and students across the social sciences particularly those studying inequalities in the modern world neoliberalism and the economy social theory ageing and older people and community studies and postgraduates who are seeking to undertake applied research It would also be valuable for policymakers and service providers European Social Integration and the Roma Cerasela Voiculescu, 2016-10-04 In the field of political sociology and European studies there has long been a discussion on transnational neoliberal development and ethnic groups self governance Notwithstanding there has been limited exploration in relation to modes of knowledge production associated with neoliberal governance of the Other e g ethnic and indigenous groups which capture its idiosyncratic modes of political expression and empowerment Drawing on Michel Foucault s political philosophy this book discusses European social integration as transnational neoliberal governmentality and challenges its epistemologically constituted subaltern subject Neoliberalism is questioned in relation to its programs of securitisation of poverty and authoritarian models of self governance associated with instrumentality of the market In this context the book s rich political historical ethnography develops a new framework for the study of social power Furthermore inspired by Jacques Rancière s radical philosophy European Social Integration and the Roma proposes a new mode of knowledge production about populations excessively subjected to neoliberal governmentality heralding the epistemological decolonisation of the neoliberal subject Presenting an insightful new prospect in critical sociology as well as the conceptualization of power and the application of theories of governmentality this book will appeal to scholars interested in the areas of political sociology and anthropology international relations social and political theory philosophy and post development studies
