Case Studies For Educational Leadership Solving Administrative Dilemmas:

Case Studies for Educational Leadership Stephen F. Midlock, 2011 Case Studies for Educational Leadership gives educational leadership students an opportunity to project themselves into real life administrative situations and prepare for their future positions in the field Each case study contained in this practical first edition book asks students to analyze complex problems consider the moral ramifications of their approach think on their feet and ultimately solve the issue at hand Appropriate as a supplemental text or a main text to a range of educational leadership courses this text thoroughly presents the key areas of educational leadership including instructional leadership ethics and management organization and development of curriculum and its alignment with instruction with assessment supervision of personnel school community relations and strategic planning and diversity issues in educational leadership Features Here s What Happened features following each case study share the true life story of a real school administrator and prepare readers for realistic situations Ethical consideration components within each case study encourage students to reflect upon different approaches to solving the case studies as well as the possible moral ramifications of each decision Covers multiple administrative positions such as department chair assistant principal principal and central office administrator preparing readers for a range of educational leadership positions ISLLC standards alignment and cross reference charts allow readers to draw parallels between standards and case studies

School Leadership Benjamin Piltch, Terrence Quinn, 2011-01-16 Parents lawmakers supervisors and unions are among the many constituencies that demand influence if not control of the educational process How does the school administrator balance all the needs of the various groups and still remain true to the ultimate though most powerless constituency the students Through case studies and anecdotes based on real life experiences the authors share the ups and downs of the educational world seeking to find the balance that is most effective in ensuring success School Leadership Case Studies Solving School Problems details decision making and actions taken that dramatically affect the success of students and schools as well as school systems This second edition continues and improves on the first edition with a series of new and timely school leadership case studies that require the reader to reflect on the variety of issues that cross the principal s desk every day The reader will find the case studies and anecdotes highly absorbing They are so real fraught with complexity and will require the reader to use a sophisticated decision making process

Improving Instructional Practice Wafa Hozien, 2017-06-07 This book constitutes a collection of case studies that explore issues faced by school principals as is related to instructional leadership The scenarios presented here allow students to gain a more thorough understanding of the Professional Standards for Educational Leaders PSEL 2015 and their performance competencies These scenarios are designed to develop new school leaders These cases provide opportunities to create meaningful learning experiences for courses professional development programs and the mentoring of new school principals giving them exposure to the kinds of dilemmas they will encounter as they take on their leadership roles or start out on supervisory positions The cases are based on real life dilemmas reflect contemporary issues in our school buildings and are designed to be easily used or adapted across all school types The cases are taken from many years of experience as an educator administrator consultant and researcher in rural suburban and urban school districts

School Leadership and Educational Change in Singapore Benjamin Wong, Salleh Hairon, Pak Tee Ng, 2019-03-29 This book provides readers with insights into how Singapore school leaders are actively engaged in the transformation of the Singapore education system It brings to attention crucial elucidations of the increasing demand and complexity placed on school leaders through the use of case studies Each chapter in the book focuses on a particular issue which has become important or has gained renewed importance in the Singapore education system The chapters first provide a background to the theme under examination and a theoretical basis for discussion They then narrate the case that shows how school leaders interpret and implement policy initiatives in their respective schools or lead change in that area The case studies span over a wide range of domains such as instructional leadership assessment leadership stakeholder engagement professional learning communities and school branding The data collected from these case studies came primarily from interviews of educators in their respective school contexts in addition to other sources of data such as artifacts Each case study highlights descriptions interpretations and perspectives across school contexts which is consistent with the proposition that school leadership is very much shaped by context At the end of each chapter there are guiding questions to help readers critically analyse and reflect on the main learning points of the case

You Can't Make This Up! Linda Rae Markert, 2020-10-26 In You Can't Make This Up the author invites both emerging educational leaders and practicing school administrators to read a series of short stories recounted by principals and vice principals employed in schools across the United States in Germany and Cyprus This collection of present day stories highlights the types of challenges school leaders encounter on a daily basis all of which demand informed decisions but none of which are easily resolved Each story is presented in a case study format and aligned with selected elements within one of the ten Professional Standards for Educational Leadership PSEL At a critical juncture in each case a series of questions to ponder is presented followed by a segment describing what actually occurred
