Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh,2006 This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition Featuring thirty nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives The volume is divided into four parts Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions

Life-Practice Educology Lan Ye,2020-03-23 In Life Practice Educology A Contemporary Chinese Theory of Education Ye Lan presents the theory of a contemporary Chinese school of Educology It consists of two main parts The first part proposes a fully formulated view on Life Practice School of Educology and expounds on current thinking in China that denies the independence of educology as a discipline The second part explains both inherited and new understandings of the Life Practice School of Educology covering Chinese traditional culture and the current debate It further refines the Chinese understanding of Education jiaoyu as teaching the knowledge of nature and society and cultivating a self consciousness towards life

Handbook of Organization Theory and Management Forrest Clark,A.B. Lorenzoni,2005-11-01 Few subjects are more influenced by philosophy than the form of governance that guides and administers public affairs yet much of the literature about public administration remains silent about this connection Handbook of Organization Theory and Management The Philosophical Approach Second Edition identifies and discusses many of the mos

Swarming Landscapes Rob Roggema,2012-12-02 This book advocates a fresh approach to planning that anticipates rather than reacts to the changes in climate currently in process Today s spatial planning procedures rely on historical evidence instead of preparing for factors that by definition lie in the future yet which are relatively uncontroversial shortages of water sea level rise and rises in average temperatures being but three examples Arguing for more flexibility the contributors view complexity as the key to transforming the way we plan in order to better equip us to face uncertainties about our future environment

Shut It Down Lisa Fithian,2019 For decades Fithian s work as an advocate for civil disobedience and nonviolent direct action has put her on the frontlines of change She offers strategies and actions to promote justice and incite change in any community

Designing for Hope Dominique Hes,Chrisna du Plessis,2014-10-17 A forward looking book on sustainable design that describes problems and then by providing a different way to conceptualise design and development leads on to examples of regenerative solutions Its aim is to move the discussion away from doing less but still detracting from our ecological capital to positively contributing and adding to this capital This book offers a hopeful response to the often frightening changes and challenges we face arguing that we can actively create a positive and abundant future through mindful contributive engagement that is rooted in a living systems based worldview Concepts and practices such as Regenerative Development Biophilic Design Biomimicry Permaculture and Positive Development are explored through interviews and case studies from the built environment to try and answer questions such as How can projects focus on creating a positive ecological footprint and contribute to community How can we as practitioners restore and enrich the relationships in our projects and How does design focus hope and create a positive legacy
