"I Hate Reading" Justin M. Stygles, 2022-09-19 It can take a lifetime to eradicate a reader's shame or it can take one great teacher Shame bound readers want someone to notice them It's true But then what does a teacher do to help students Justin Stygles found fresh answers in Gershen Kaufman's seminal research on shame and applied it to his teaching The results proved to him and now us that building relationships and taking deliberate actions to alleviate shame is crucial With this remarkable book Stygles shows us how to build an interpersonal bridge with students and make vulnerability okay But make no mistake disengaged readers need to feel competent before they fully buy in and so the author packs the book with powerful instructional ideas Learn to Spot all the distress signals including withdrawal perfectionism and compliance Help students see that they are not permanently locked out of a reading life Use assessment instruments to note and celebrate incremental change Plan mini units that develop skills in concert with engagement Design small group experiences that are free of levels and other shame inducing labels Pump up independent reading with scaffolding and sociability Harness writing about reading to convince students of their uniqueness The shame factor is real It's time we meet it head on with innovation and the best thinking from multiple research fields I Hate Reading is the tool that does just that

Reading at a Crossroads? Rand J. Spiro, Michael DeSchryver, Michelle Schira Hagerman, Paul M. Morsink, Penny Thompson, 2015-03-05 The Internet is transforming the experience of reading and learning through reading Is this transformation effecting a radical change in reading processes as readers synthesize understandings from fragments across multiple texts Or conversely is the Internet merely a new place to use the same reading skills and processes developed through experience with traditional print based media Are the changes in reading processes a matter of degree or are they fundamentally new And if so how must reading theory research and instruction adjust This volume brings together distinguished experts from the fields of reading research teacher education educational psychology cognitive science rhetoric and composition digital humanities and educational technology to address these questions Every question is not answered in every chapter How could they be But every contributor has many thoughtful things to say about a subset of these important questions Together they add up to a comprehensive response to the issues the field faces as it approaches what may well be or not a crossroads A website devoted to extending discussion around the book in creative and disjunctive ways
