Sin-wai,2023-04-26 Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Technology second edition provides a state of the art survey of the field of computer assisted translation It is the first definitive reference to provide a comprehensive overview of the general regional and topical aspects of this increasingly significant area of study The Encyclopedia is divided into three parts Part 1 presents general issues in translation technology such as its history and development translator training and various aspects of machine translation including a valuable case study of its teaching at a major university Part 2 discusses national and regional developments in translation technology offering contributions covering the crucial territories of China Canada France Hong Kong Japan South Africa Taiwan the Netherlands and Belgium the United Kingdom and the United States Part 3 evaluates specific matters in translation technology with entries focused on subjects such as alignment concordancing localization online translation and translation memory The new edition has five additional chapters with many chapters updated and revised drawing on the expertise of over 50 contributors from around the world and an international panel of consultant editors to provide a selection of chapters on the most pertinent topics in the discipline All the chapters are self contained extensively cross referenced and include useful and up to date references and information for further reading It will be an invaluable reference work for anyone with a professional or academic interest in the subject

Translation Quality Assessment Malcolm Williams, 2004 Outlining an original discourse based model for translation quality assessment that goes beyond conventional microtextual error analysis this ground breaking new work by Malcolm Williams explores the potential of transferring reasoning and argument as the prime criterion of translation quality Assessment through error analysis is inevitably based on an error count an unsatisfactory means of establishing and justifying differences in quality that forces the evaluator to focus on subsentence elements rather than on the translator's success in conveying the key messages of the source text Williams counters that a judgement of translation quality should be based primarily on the degree to which the translator has adequately rendered the reasoning or argument structure An assessment of six aspects of argument structure is proposed argument macrostructure propositional functions conjunctives types of arguments figures of speech and narrative strategy Williams illustrates the approach using

Training for the New Millennium Martha Tennent, 2005-01-01 Originating at an international forum held at the University of Vic Spain the twelve essays collected here attest to important changes in translation practice and the assumptions which underpin them Leading theorists respond to the state of Translation Studies today particularly the epistemological dilemma between theories that are empirically oriented and those that are inspired by developments in Cultural Studies But the volume is also practical Experienced instructors survey existing pedagogies at translator interpreter training programs and explore new techniques that address the technological and global challenges of the new millennium Among the topics considered are how to use translation technology in the classroom how to construct a syllabus for a course in audiovisual translating or in translation theory and how to develop guidelines for a program for community interpreters or conference interpreters The contributors all assume that translation whether written or oral does not occupy a neutral space It is a cross cultural exchange that produces far reaching social effects Their essays significantly advance the theoretical and practical understanding of translation along these lines
