Challenges Facing Higher Education At The Millennium Issues In Higher Education:

Challenges Facing Higher Education at the Millennium Werner Z. Hirsch, Luc Weber, 1999-08-05 In May 1998 the participants in the Glion Colloquium gathered in Switzerland to identify the major problems currently facing higher education in the United States and Western Europe and to propose effective means for meeting those challenges Challenges Facing Higher Education at the Millennium is a collection of papers written by the participants of this colloquium Higher Education in Transition Brian L. Fife, Joseph Losco, 1999-12-30 This book explores the state of higher education at century's end and the challenges awaiting it in the next millennium It assesses changes in the student population the role of faculty spending patterns government support the role of intercollegiate athletics the nature of presidential leadership and the impact of technological change This volume is a call to educators parents and taxpayers alike to enter into a dialogue about the future directions of higher education that they are willing to support Because in the last few decades higher education has attempted to extend both its reach and scope despite the finite nature of resources at its disposal the new millennium will mark a time when colleges and universities must clearly delimit and prioritize their goals This volume is a call to educators parents and taxpayers alike to enter into a dialogue about the future directions of higher education that they are willing to support The role of higher education in a high tech interdependent world economy has never been more important than it is today Yet never before has its future been so cloudy Changes in the nature of the student population tuition increases that consistently outpace the cost of living increasing conflict between faculty and administration personnel attacks on tenure the professionalization of collegiate sports and political attacks and threats to state funding are all transforming an institution in ways that are as yet uncertain at best This volume reviews the source and impact of change on today's colleges and universities Leading scholars contribute chapters on specific aspects of collegiate life and the way internal and external forces are changing the scope and function of higher education Challenges Facing Higher Education at the

Millennium Werner Zvi Hirsch, 2008 Major Challenges Facing Higher Education in the Arab World: Quality Assurance and Relevance Adnan Badran, Elias Baydoun, John R. Hillman, 2019-03-25 This book focuses on two crucial issues that need to be addressed as a matter of urgency by universities in the Arab region namely a conducting independent assessments of the quality of their teaching research administration governance and planning and b determining the relevance of their teaching research and societal impacts Although well established around the world in manufacturing industries and private sector service industries including the research and commercialisation arms of the major universities and research institutes it is only in recent years that quality assurance QA assessments have started to be applied to most aspects education Several Arab universities are adopting various forms of QA but some variants are little more than bureaucratic box ticking exercises with minimal commitment by staff to the ultimate aim of continuing self improvement This book will be of interest to senior management at faculty and departmental level and above in all Arab universities specifically and more generally in Islamic institutions of higher education Senior management in other universities especially in the developing world will benefit from its analyses and recommendations

Higher Education and Lifelong Learning Hans Schuetze, Maria Slowey, 2013-01-11 Responding to the emerging needs of lifelong learners arguably represents one of the most fundamental challenges facing higher education systems of the countries of the developing world At the start of the new century the concept of Lifelong Learning may indeed be counted as one of the the key organising concepts underlying public policy in many countries The interpretation of the concept however remains highly contested This timely book throws new light on the dramatic changes taking place in higher education through an exploration of the participation of non traditional students in ten countries Among others the following areas are explored the complex reality behind the statistics on participation in higher education in five European countries Austria Germany Ireland Sweden and the United Kingdom North America Japan Australia and New Zealand contrasting perceptions of lifelong learning changing patterns of participation by adults in higher education national and institutional policies and innovations to accommodate non traditional students and new forms of study conclusions for policy practice and research Higher Education for Lifelong Learners will be of interest to academics researchers and students involved with higher education lifelong learning and comparative education as well as policy makers educational managers and administrators The contributions reveal a remarkable transformation in the student body and in the way learners pursue their studies highlighting the international impact of increasing marketisation and differentiation on the nature of the higher education accessible to potential lifelong learners International Organizations and Higher Education Policy Roberta Malee Bassett, Alma Maldonado-Maldonado, 2010-04-15 Higher Education operates in an increasingly global context and yet the examination of what drives and moves the field has remained largely focused on domestic campus leaders national governments and institutional actors International Organizations and Higher Education Policy expands the analysis to include the global drivers behind higher education policy including a full array of influential organizations such as the World Bank UNESCO OECD WTO bilateral aid agencies and major private foundations The significance of these organizations is especially pronounced in the developing world where the expansion of higher education is happening in conjunction with the broadening influence of globalization International Organizations and Higher Education Policy critically analyses the impact that these influential organizations have at different levels of policy development and implementation around the world It examines their role in higher education institutions examines the strength of these relationships and exposes both the positive and negative implications This edited volume is composed of scholars and members of these organizations from around the world They address How international organizations represent the interests of the developed world and subsequently have an impact on the developing world How these organizations drive and shape the global agenda for higher education How higher education as an international industry is subject to a myriad of influences from the international to the regional level What ethical issues emerge when international organizations intervene in national policy making processes Knowledge Society vs. Knowledge Economy S. Sörlin, H. Vessuri, 2007-02-05 A new collection in the IAU Issues in Higher Education Series that deals with the major tensions between education and science Drawing on experiences from a range of countries and regions the book demonstrates the need to find new avenues for the management of knowledge production to ensure that it can meet increasingly global goals and demands
