A Guide to Energy Management in Buildings Douglas Harris, 2016-11-29 This new edition of A Guide to Energy Management in Buildings begins by asking why we need to control energy use in buildings and proceeds to discuss how the energy consumption of a building can be assessed or estimated through an energy audit It then details a range of interventions to reduce energy use and outlines methods of assessing the cost effectiveness of such measures Topics covered include where and how energy is used in buildings energy audits measuring and monitoring energy use techniques for reducing energy use in buildings legislative issues And new in this edition the cooling of buildings fuel costs and smart metering and education and professional recognition It provides a template for instigating the energy management process within an organization as well as guidance on management issues such as employee motivation and gives practical details on how to carry the process through This book should appeal to building and facilities managers and also to students of energy management modules in FE and HE courses The Passivhaus Designer's Manual Christina Hopfe, Robert

McLeod, 2015-10-05 Passivhaus is the fastest growing energy performance standard in the world with almost 50 000 buildings realised to date Applicable to both domestic and non domestic building types the strength of Passivhaus lies in the simplicity of the concept As European and global energy directives move ever closer towards Zero fossil Energy standards Passivhaus provides a robust fabric first approach from which to make the next step The Passivhaus Designers Manual is the most comprehensive technical guide available to those wishing to design and build Passivhaus and Zero Energy Buildings As a technical reference for architects engineers and construction professionals The Passivhaus Designers Manual provides State of the art guidance for anyone designing or working on a Passivhaus project In depth information on building services including high performance ventilation systems and ultra low energy heating and cooling systems Holistic design guidance encompassing daylight design ecological materials thermal comfort indoor air quality and economics Practical advice on procurement methods project management and quality assurance Renewable energy systems suitable for Passivhaus and Zero Energy Buildings Practical case studies from the UK USA and Germany amongst others Detailed worked examples to show you how it s done and what to look out for Expert advice from 20 world renowned Passivhaus designers architects building physicists and engineers Lavishly illustrated with nearly 200 full colour illustrations and presented by two highly experienced specialists this is your one stop shop for comprehensive practical information on Passivhaus and Zero Energy buildings Routledge Handbook of Resilient Thermal Comfort Fergus Nicol, Hom Bahadur Rijal, Susan Roaf, 2022-04-19

This book brings together some of the finest academics in the field to address important questions around the way in which people experience their physical environments including temperature light air quality acoustics and so forth It is of importance not only to the comfort people feel indoors but also the success of any building as an environment for its stated purpose The way in which comfort is produced and perceived has a profound effect on the energy use of a building and its resilience to the increasing dangers posed by extreme weather events and power outages caused by climate change Research on thermal comfort is particularly important not only for the health and well being of occupants but because energy used for temperature control is responsible for a large part of the total energy budget of the built environment In recent years there has been an increasing focus on the vulnerabilities of the thermal comfort system how and why are buildings failing to provide safe and agreeable thermal environments at an affordable price Achieving comfort in buildings is a complex subject that involves physics behaviour physiology energy conservation climate change and of course architecture and urban design Bringing together the related disciplines in one volume lays strong multi disciplinary foundations for new research and design directions for resilient 21st century architecture This book heralds workable solutions and emerging directions for key fields in building the resilience of households organisations and populations in a heating world Building Futures Jane Powell, Jennifer Monahan, Chris Foulds, 2015-11-24 A reduction in the energy demand of buildings can make a major contribution to achieving national and international carbon reduction goals in addition to addressing the interlinked issues of sustainable development fuel poverty and fuel security Despite improvements in thermal efficiency the energy demand of buildings stubbornly remains unchanged or is only declining slowly due to the challenges posed by growing populations the expectations of larger more comfortable and better equipped living spaces and an expanding commercial sector Building Futures offers an interdisciplinary approach to explore this lack of progress combining technical and social insights into the challenges of designing constructing and operating new low energy buildings as well as improving the existing inefficient building stock The twin roles of energy efficiency which is predominantly concerned with technological solutions and energy conservation which involves changing peoples behaviour are both explored The book includes a broad geographical range and scale of case studies from the UK Europe and further afield including Passivhaus in Germany and the UK Dongtan Eco City in China and retrofit houses in Denmark This book is a valuable resource for students and academics of environmental science and energy based subjects as well as construction and building management professionals Sustainable Lighting & Lighting for Sustainability MDPI, 2021-01-08 The role of lighting is developing into a topic considered alongside sustainable development Some years ago lighting installations fulfilled technical requirements and consumed only enough energy for the accurate completion of visual tasks This recently changed due to several discoveries in the matter of non visual paths whose influence on users well being safety mood and productivity is starting to be applied to installations Today we know that sustainable development depends on many factors but we are only now beginning to understand how accurate lighting can be used to promote development from different perspectives The present book compiles work dealing with the way lighting installations must be designed to work in an efficient and sustainable way together with the way lighting can be used to contribute to sustainable development beyond the well know savings in energy green house gas emissions and raw materials consumption The union of both concepts sustainable lighting and lighting for sustainability is what is call total lighting the global framework with which the lighting community will work in the near future Visual and Non-Visual Effects of Light Agnieszka Wolska, Dariusz Sawicki, Małgorzata Tafil-Klawe, 2020-07-29 The introduction of artificial lighting extends the time of wakefulness after dark and enables work at night thus disturbing the human circadian rhythm The understanding of the physiological mechanisms of visual and non visual systems may be important for the development and use of proper light infrastructure and light interventions for different workplace settings especially for shift work conditions Visual and Non Visual Effects of Light Working Environment and Well Being presents the impact of lighting in the working environment on human health well being and visual performance The physiological explanation of the visual and non visual effects of light on humans which discusses the biological bases of image and non image forming vision at the cellular level may be of particular interest to any professional in the field of medicine physiology and biology It is one of the intentions of this book to put forward some recommendations and examples of lighting design which take into account both the visual and non visual effects of light on humans These may be of particular interest to any professional in the field of lighting occupational safety and health and interior design What effects on health can a light overdose or light deficiency have What is bad light The authors of the monograph provide answers to these questions Just as for a physicist the dual nature of light comprises an electromagnetic wave and a photon the duality of light for a physician comprises visual and non visual effects Prof Jacek Przybylski Medical University of Warsaw This is a unique publication in the field of lighting technology The authors have skillfully combined both the technical and biomedical aspects involved which is unprecedented in the literature available As a result an important study has been created for many professional groups with a significant impact on the assessment of risks associated with LED sources Prof Andrzej Zaj c Military University of Technology Warsaw Industrial Ventilation

Design Guidebook: Volume 1 Howard D. Goodfellow, Risto Kosonen, 2020-07-24 The fully revised and restructured two volume 2nd edition of the Industrial Ventilation Design Guidebook develops a systematic approach to the engineering design of industrial ventilation systems and provides engineers guidance on how to implement this state of the art ventilation technology on a global basis Volume 1 Fundamentals features the latest research technology in the broad field of ventilation for contaminant control including extensive updates of the foundational chapters from the previous edition With major contributions by experts from Asia Europe and North America in the global industrial ventilation field this new edition is a valuable reference for consulting engineers working in the design of air pollution and sustainability for their industrial clients processing and manufacturing as well as mechanical process and plant engineers looking for design methodologies and advice on sensors and control algorithms for specific industrial operations so they can meet challenging targets in the low carbon economy Presents practical designs for different types of industrial systems including descriptions and new designs for ducted systems Discusses the basic processes of air and containment movements such as jets plumes and boundary flows inside ventilated spaces Introduces the new concept of target levels in the systematic design methodology such as assessing target levels for key parameters of industrial air technology and the hierarchy of different target levels Provides future directions and opportunities in the industrial design field Research Methods for Environmental Psychology Robert Gifford, 2015-10-20 Covering the full spectrum of methodology the timely and indispensable Research Methods for Environmental surveys the research and application methods for studying changing and improving human attitudes behaviour and well being in relation to the physical environment The first new book covering research methods in environmental psychology in over 25 years Brings the subject completely up to date with coverage of the latest methodology in the field The level of public concern over the impact of the environment on humans is high making this book timely and of real interest to a fast growing discipline Comprehensively surveys the research and application methods for studying changing and improving human attitudes behavior and well being in relation to the physical environment Robert Gifford is internationally recognised as one of the leading individuals in this field and the contributors include many of the major leaders in the discipline
