Scottish Building Standards in Brief Ray Tricker, Rozz Algar, 2008 Scottish Building Standards in Brief takes the highly successful formula of Ray Tricker's Building Regulations in Brief and applies it to the requirements of the Building Scotland Regulations 2004. With the same no nonsense and simple to follow guidance but written specifically for the Scottish Building Standards it's the ideal book for builders, architects, designers and DIY enthusiasts working in Scotland. Ray Tricker and Roz Algar explain the meaning of the regulations, their history, current status, requirements, associated documentation and how local authorities view their importance and emphasises the benefits and requirements of each one. There is no easier or clearer guide to help you to comply with the Scottish Building Standards in the simplest and most cost effective manner possible.

Sustainable Retrofitting of Commercial Buildings Richard Hyde, Nathan Groenhout, Francis Barram, Ken Yeang, 2015-01-28 Despite recent improvements in energy efficiency being made in new build it is important that the existing commercial building sector also take action to meet emission reduction targets. The objectives and challenges of such action will reduce the risk of the sector becoming obsolete due to high energy use and poor environmental performance. This book presents a theory based practice support methodology to deal with sustainable retrofitting opportunities for existing commercial buildings in warm climates using bioclimatic design as the basis. The book has four main parts focusing on eco design and renovation, bioclimatic retrofitting, technological and behavioural change and case studies of retrofitting exemplars. In the first part the context of climate change effects on design and renovation at the city scale is discussed. The second part looks at bioclimatic retrofitting as a design guide for existing buildings, highlighting the significance of architectural design and engineering systems for energy performance. The technological and behavioural contexts of the existing building sector, policies, modelling, monitoring and trend analysis in respect to energy and environmental performance are covered in part three. The final part gives some case studies showing the effectiveness of strategies suggested for effective environmental performance. This book is a must have guide for all involved in the design and engineering of retrofitting projects in warm climates.

Materials for Energy Efficiency and Thermal Comfort in Buildings Matthew R Hall, 2010-04-21 Almost half of the total energy produced in the developed world is inefficiently used to heat, cool, ventilate and control humidity in buildings to meet the increasingly high thermal comfort levels demanded by occupants. The utilisation of advanced materials and passive technologies in buildings would substantially reduce the energy demand and improve the environmental impact and carbon footprint of building stock worldwide. Materials for energy efficiency and thermal comfort in buildings critically reviews the advanced building materials applicable for improving the built environment. Part one reviews both fundamental building physics and occupant comfort in buildings from heat and mass transport, hygrothermal behaviour and ventilation on to thermal comfort and health and safety requirements. Part two details the development of advanced materials and sustainable technologies for application in buildings beginning with a review of lifecycle assessment and environmental profiling of materials The section moves on to review thermal insulation materials materials for heat and moisture control and heat energy storage and passive cooling technologies Part two concludes with coverage of modern methods of construction roofing design and technology and benchmarking of fa ades for optimised building thermal performance Finally Part three reviews the application of advanced materials design and technologies in a range of existing and new building types including domestic commercial and high performance buildings and buildings in hot and tropical climates This book is of particular use to mechanical electrical and HVAC engineers architects and low energy building practitioners worldwide as well as to academics and researchers in the fields of building physics civil and building engineering and materials science Explores improving energy efficiency and thermal comfort through material selection and sustainable technologies Documents the development of advanced materials and sustainable technologies for applications in building design and construction Examines fundamental building physics and occupant comfort in buildings featuring heat and mass transport hygrothermal behaviour and ventilation
