Reimagining the Human Service Relationship Jaber F. Gubrium, Tone A. Andreassen, Per K. Solvang, 2016-07-05 The traditional lines of demarcation between service providers and service users are shifting Professionals in managed service organizations are working to incorporate the voices of service users into their missions and the way they function and service users with growing access to knowledge have taken on the semblances of professional expertise Additionally the human services environment has been transformed by administrative imperatives The drive toward greater efficiency and accountability has weakened the bond between users and providers Reimagining the Human Service Relationship is informed by the premise that the helping relationship should be seen as developing in the interactive space between those who provide human services and those who receive them The contributors to this volume redefine the contours roles institutional divisions means and aims of providing and receiving services in a range of settings including child welfare addiction treatment social enterprise doctoring mental health and palliative care Though they advocate an experience near approach they remain sensitive to the ambiguities and competing rationalities of the service relationship Taken together these chapters reimagine the service relationship by making visible the working relevancies of service delivery

Researching with Care Tula Brannelly, Marian Barnes, 2022-10-24 What are the implications of caring about the things we research How does that affect how we research who we research with and what we do with our results Proposing what Joan C Tronto has called a paradigm shift in research thinking this book invites researchers across disciplines and fields of study to do research that thinks and acts with care The authors draw on their own and others experiences of researching the troubles they encounter and the opportunities generated when research is approached as a caring practice Care ethics provides a guide from starting out designing and conducting projects to thinking about research legacies It offers a way in which research can help repair harms and promote justice
