Fear and Temptation Terry Goldie, 1993 Goldie skillfully reveals the ambivalence of white writers to indigenous culture through an examination of the stereotyping involved in the creation of the image of the Other The treacherous redskin and the Indian maiden embodiments of violence and sex also evoke emotional signs of fear and temptation of white repulsion from and attraction to the indigene and the land Goldie suggests that white culture deeply attracted to the impossible idea of becoming indigenous either rejects native land claims and denies recognition of the original indigenes or incorporates these claims into white assertions of native status After comparing the works of Canadian author Rudy Wiebe and Australian author Patrick White Goldie concludes by linking the results of his literary analysis to wider cultural concerns particularly land rights He shows that literary views of natives both positive and negative emphasize the same characteristics and he suggests that escape from this limited vision may open the door to solving the problems of native sovereignty

International Handbook of the Religious, Moral and Spiritual Dimensions in Education Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Kathleen Engebretson, Robert Jackson, Andrew McGrady, 2007-06-04 Traditionally spirituality has resided and been contained within religious frameworks but while the links between the two areas are still acknowledged by many in the contemporary world spirituality is perceived by some as an aspect of human life that is distinct from religion Consequently many are searching for meaning within and without religious traditions today and seeking answers to ethical and moral questions that have been generated by the knowledge and technological explosion One outcome is the renewed interest in the religious spiritual and moral dimensions of education throughout the life cycle This International Handbook presents the research and professional practice of scholars who are daily engaged in the consideration of these dimensions in education

The result is a collection of essays which reflects the discipline in all of its internationality as it is today Embedded within the chapters is also an agenda for the future where the religious moral and spiritual dimensions in education are proposed as an exciting and challenging way forward for educators at all levels in society As well it offers a vision for the emergence of a peaceful and just world
