Diary of Anna Green Winslow, a Boston School Girl of 1771, Edited by Alice Morse Earle Anna Green Winslow, 1894
Diary of Anna Green Winslow Anna Green Winslow, 2015-07-19 Excerpt from Diary of Anna Green Winslow A Boston School Girl of 1771 In the year 1770 a bright little girl ten years of age Anna Green Winslow was sent from her far away home in Nova Scotia to Boston the birthplace of her parents to be finished at Boston schools by Boston teachers She wrote with evident eagerness and loving care for the edification of her parents and her own practice in penmanship this interesting and quaint diary which forms a most sprightly record not only of the life of a young girl at that time but of the prim and narrow round of daily occurrences in provincial Boston It thus assumes a positive value as an historical picture of the domestic life of that day a value of which the little girl who wrote it or her kinsfolk who affectionately preserved it to our own day never could have dreamed To many New England families it is specially interesting as a complete rendering a perfect presentment of the childish life of their great grandmothers her companions About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Diary of Anna Green Winslow Anna Green Winslow, 2015-12-17 Anna Green Winslow 29 November 1759 19 July 1780 a member of the prominent Winslow family of Boston Massachusetts United States was a girl who wrote a series of letters to her mother between 1771 and 1773 that portray the daily life of the gentry in Boston at the first stirrings of the American Revolution She made copies of the letters into an eight by six and a half inch book in order to improve her penmanship making the accounts

a sort of diary as well This diary edited by 19th century American historian and author Alice Morse Earle was published in 1894 under the title Diary of Anna Green Winslow A Boston School Girl of 1771 and has never gone out of print The diary provides a rare window into the life of an affluent teenage girl in colonial Boston While making some changes for contemporary readers Earle kept the original fanciful spelling and capitalization Anna s diary hints at the effect Revolutionary fever had on families who split on the question of how the British Crown treated its 13 American colonies Earle who specialized in books on Colonial New England added enough footnotes to nearly double the published book s length In the footnotes Earle made explicit how the American Revolution divided the extended Winslow family and clarified two oblique references to the Boston Massacre Anna s father was a confirmed Loyalist but it seems that Anna may have been more like her distant cousin Patriot Dr Issac Winslow whom she visited for eight days along with his father Major General John Winslow at their home in Marshfield Massachusetts in the spring of 1773 for she refers to herself as a daughter of liberty and enthusiastically embraces making homespun in order to eschew imported British goods
