Cities In A Globalizing World Cities In A Globalizing World:

Cities in a Globalizing World Un-Habitat,2012-06-25 The world has entered the urban millennium Nearly half the world s people are now city dwellers and the rapid increase in urban population is expected to continue mainly in developing countries This historic transition is being further propelled by the powerful forces of globalization The central challenge for the international community is clear to make both urbanization and globalization work for all people instead of leaving billions behind or on the margins Cities in a Globalizing World Global Report on Human Settlements is a comprehensive review of conditions in the world s cities and the prospects for making them better safer places to live in an age of globalization I hope that it will provide all stakeholders foremost among them the urban poor themselves with reliable and timely information with which to set our policies right and get the machinery of urban life moving in a constructive direction From the Foreword by Kofi Annan Secretary General United Nations Cities in a Globalizing World presents a comprehensive review of the world s cities and analyses the positive and negative impacts on human settlements of the global trends towards social and economic integration and the rapid changes in information and communication technologies In this Global Report the United Nations Centre for Human Settlements Habitat draws on specially commissioned and contributed background papers from more than 80 leading international specialists The report focuses on recent trends in human settlements and their implications for poverty inequity and social polarization It develops advance knowledge for urban planning and management policies in support and promotion of inclusive cities and good urban governance This major and influential report is the most authoritative and up to date assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Written in clear non technical language and supported by informative graphics case studies and extensive statistical data it should be an essential tool and reference for academics researchers planners public authorities and civil society organizations around the world

Cities in a Globalizing World Frannie Léautier,2006-01-01 In a world moving very rapidly on both urbanization and globalization cities in the developing world face both serious challenges and attractive opportunities They can reap the benefits of economic growth by creating an enabling investment climate well functioning markets institutions that support sound governance and regulatory regimes and public infrastructure and social services At the same time they can create an environment where their citizens are both included and empowered And because cities do not exist in isolation urban policies and programs must also be coordinated wi

Cities of the Global South Reader Faranak Miraftab,Neema Kudva,2014-10-10 The Cities of the Global South Reader adopts a fresh and critical approach to the fi eld of urbanization in the developing world The Reader incorporates both early and emerging debates about the diverse trajectories of urbanization processes in the context of the restructured global alignments in the last three decades Emphasizing the historical legacies of colonialism the Reader recognizes the entanglement of conditions and concepts often understood in binary relations first third worlds wealth poverty development underdevelopment and inclusion exclusion By asking whose city whose development the Reader rigorously highlights the fractures along lines of class race gender and other socially and spatially constructed hierarchies in global South cities The Reader's thematic structure where editorial introductions accompany selected texts examines the issues and concerns that urban dwellers planners and policy makers face in the contemporary world These include the urban economy housing basic services infrastructure the role of non state civil society based actors planned interventions and contestations the role of diaspora capital the looming problem of adapting to climate change and the increasing spectre of violence in a post 9 11 transnational world The Cities of the Global South Reader pulls together a diverse set of readings from scholars across the world some of which have been written specially for the volume to provide an essential resource for a broad interdisciplinary readership at undergraduate and postgraduate levels in urban geography urban sociology and urban planning as well as disciplines related to international and development studies Editorial commentaries that introduce the central issues for each theme summarize the state of the field and outline an associated bibliography They will be of particular value for lecturers students and researchers making the Cities of the Global South Reader a key text for those interested in understanding contemporary urbanization processes Cities in a Globalizing World Frannie Léautier, 2006
