Correction and Prevention, 1910 Terrorist Histories Caoimhe Nic Dhaibheid, 2016-11-03 This book addresses provides a series of in depth portraits of men and women who have been labelled terrorists from the 19th 20th and 21st centuries Bridging historical methodologies and theoretical approaches to terrorism studies it seeks to contribute to the developing historicising of terrorism studies This is achieved principally through a prosopographical approach In the preponderance of detailed statistical and quantitative data on the practice of terrorism and political violence the individuals who participate in terrorist acts are often obscured While ideologies and organisations have attracted much scholarly interest less is known of the personal trajectories into political violence particularly from a historical perspective The focus on a relatively narrow cast of high profile terrorist villains to a large part driven by popular and media attention results in a somewhat skewed picture of equal value arguably is a more sustained reflection on the lives of lesser known individuals The book sits at the juncture between terrorism studies historical biography and ethnography It comprises case studies of ten individuals who have engaged in political violence in the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries in a number of locations and with a variety of ideological motivations from Russian inflected anarchism to Islamist extremism Through detailed empirical research crucial themes in the study of terrorism and political violence are explored the diverse individual radicalisation pathways the question of disengagement and re engagement various counter terrorist and counter insurgency strategies adopted by governments and security forces and the changing nature and perception of terrorism over time Although not explicitly comparative a number of themes resonate between the case studies which will be drawn together in the conclusion to this book These include the role of migration in radicalisation the influence of radical family heritages the experience of imprisonment and the narratives which individuals construct to tell their own terrorist life stories It also provides an historically grounded answer to one of the most contentious and heated debates in recent literature on terrorism studies what leads a person to turn to political violence In examining the life narratives of a diverse range of men and women who at some point embraced violence this book seeks to contribute to a growing understanding of the entire arc of a terrorist lifespan from radicalisation to mobilisation to disengagement and beyond This book will be of much interest to students of political violence terrorism studies security studies and politics in general
