The Microfoundations of

Diaspora Politics Alexandra Délano Alonso, Harris Mylonas, 2021-09-21 The Microfoundations of Diaspora Politics examines the various actors within and beyond the state that participate in the design and implementation of diaspora policies as well as the mechanisms through which diasporas are constructed by governments political parties diaspora entrepreneurs or international organisations Extant theories are often hard pressed to capture the empirical variation and often end up identifying exceptions The multidisciplinary group of contributors in this book theorise these exceptions through three interrelated conceptual moves first by focusing on understudied aspects of the relationships between states as well as organised non state actors and their citizens or co ethnics abroad or at home in cases of return migration Second by examining dyads of origin states and specific diasporic communities differentiated by time of emigration place of residence socio economic status migratory status generation or skills Third by considering migration in its multiple spatial and temporal phases emigration immigration transit return and how they intersect to constitute diasporic identities and policies These conceptual moves facilitate comparative research and help scholars identify the mechanisms connecting structural variables with specific policies by states and other actors as well as responses by the relevant diasporic communities This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Human Geopolitics Alan John Gamlen, 2019 This volume charts the rapid rise of various forms of diaspora institutions across distinct historical phases and geographical regions explaining the way that evolving models and best practices of international migration management have increasingly changed the way states see their diasporas and reconfigured the rules of international politics
