Pettey, 2014-11-11 Explores the development of film noir as a cultural and artistic phenomenon This book traces the development of what we know as film noir from the proto noir elements of Feuillade's silent French crime series and German Expressionism to the genre's mid twentieth century popularization and influence on contemporary global media. By employing experimental lighting effects, oblique camera angles, distorted compositions, and shifting points of view, film noir's style both creates and comments upon a morally adumbrated world where the alienating effects of the uncanny, the fetishistic, and the surreal dominate. What drew original audiences to film noir is an immediate recognition of this modern social and psychological reality. Much of the appeal of film noir concerns its commentary on social anxieties, its cynical view of political and capitalist corruption, and its all too brutal depictions of American modernity. This book examines the changing, often volatile shifts in representations of masculinity and femininity as well as the genre's complex relationship with Afro American culture, observable through noir's musical and sonic experiments. Key features: Traces the history of film noir from its aesthetic antecedents through its mid century popularization to its influence on contemporary global media. Discusses the influence of literary and artistic sources on the development of film noir. Includes extensive bibliographies, filmographies, and recommended noir film viewing. Concludes with a reflective chapter by Alain Silver and James Ursini on their own influential studies and collections on film noir criticism.

Film Noir Andrew Spicer, 2018-10-08. Film Noir is an overview of an often celebrated but also contested body of films. It discusses film noir as a cultural phenomenon whose history is more extensive and diverse than American black and white crime thrillers of the forties. An extended Background Chapter situates film noir within its cultural context, describing its origin in German Expressionism, French Poetic Realism, and in developments within American genres: the gangster, crime thriller, horror, and the Gothic romance, and its possible relationship to changes in American society. Five chapters are devoted to classic film noir: 1940-59 chapters explore its contexts of production and reception, its visual style, and its narrative patterns and themes; chapters on character types and star performances elucidate noir's complex construction of gender, with its weak, ambivalent males and predatory femmes fatales, and also provide a detailed analysis of three noir auteurs: Anthony Mann, Robert Siodmak, and Fritz Lang. Three chapters investigate neo noir and British film noir; chapters trace the complex evolution of neo noir in American cinema from the modernist critiques of Night Moves and Taxi Driver to the postmodern hybridity of contemporary noir, including Seven, Pulp Fiction, and Memento; the final chapter surveys the development of British film noir, a significant and virtually unknown cinema stretching from the thirties to Mike Hodges. Croupier Films discussed include both little known examples and seminal works such as Double Indemnity, Scarlet Street, Kiss Me Deadly, and Touch of Evil. A final section provides a guide to further reading, an extensive bibliography, and a list of over 500 films referred to in the text. Lucidly written, Film Noir is an accessible, informative, and stimulating introduction that will have a broad appeal to undergraduates, cinema teachers, and researchers.
