Leonard,2015-01-01 History of Art Horst Woldemar Janson,Anthony F. Janson,2004 For forty years this widely acclaimed classic has remained unsurpassed as an introduction to art in the Western world boasting the matchless credibility of the Janson name This newest update features a more contemporary more colorful design and vast array of extraordinarily produced illustrations that have become the Janson hallmark A narrative voice makes this book a truly enjoyable read and carefully reviewed and revised updates to this edition offer the utmost clarity in contributions based on recent scholarship Extensive captions for the book s incredible art program offer profound insight through the eyes of twentieth century art historians speaking about specific pieces of art featured throughout Significantly changed in this edition is the chapter on The Late Renaissance in which Janson offers a new perspective on the subject tracing in detail the religious art tied to the Catholic Reform movement whose early history is little known to many readers of art history Janson has also rearranged early Renaissance art according to genres instead of time sequence and he has followed the reinterpretation of Etruscan art begun in recent years by German and English art historians With a truly humanist approach this book gives written and visual meaning to the captivating story of what artists have tried to express and why for more than 30 000 years Concise Anthology of American Literature McMichael, Concise Anthology of American Literature Frederick C. Crews,1985 This book contains selections from Volumes I and II of the Anthology of American Literature Seventh Edition Carefully selected works introduce readers to America s literary heritage from the colonial times of William Bradford and Anne Bradstreet to the contemporary era of Saul Bellow and Toni Morrison It provides a wealth of additional contextual information surrounding the readings as well as the authors themselves An expanded chronological chart and interaction time line help readers associate literary works with historical political technological and cultural developments Other coverage includes a continued emphasis on cultural plurality including the contributions to the American literary canon made by women and minority authors and a reflection of the changing nature of the canon of American Literature For anyone who likes to read the writings of American Literature and wants to understand the connection between those words and their place in American history Using Computers in the Translation of Literary Style Roy Youdale,2019-06-13 This volume argues for an innovative interdisciplinary approach to the analysis and translation of literary style based on a mutually supportive combination of traditional close reading and distant reading involving corpus linguistic analysis and text visualisation The book contextualizes this approach within the broader story of the development of computer assisted translation including machine translation and the use of CAT tools and elucidates the ways in which the approach can lead to better informed translations than those based on close reading alone This study represents the first systematic attempt to use corpus linguistics and text visualisation in the process of translating individual literary texts as opposed to comparing and analysing already published originals and their translations Using the case study of his translation into English of Uruguayan author Mario Benedetti s 1965 novel Gracias por el Fuego Youdale showcases how a close and distant reading approach CDR enhances the translator's ability to detect and measure a variety of stylistic features ranging from sentence length and structure to lexical richness and repetition both in the source text and in their own draft translation thus assisting them with the task of revision. The book reflects on the benefits and limitations of a CDR approach, its scalability and broader applicability in translation studies and related disciplines, making this key reading for translators, postgraduate students and scholars in the fields of literary translation, corpus linguistics, corpus stylistics and narratology.
